'Hunger-Crazed' Balubas Spread Katanga Terror

ELISABETHVILLE, The Congo, (UPI) — Hunger-crazed Baluba tribesmen shouting and screaming for food poured into Elisabethville Friday and attacked a grocery. They were beaten off by Katangese police armed with batons.

The Central Congolese government issued a communique in Leopoldville Friday saying it had informed Sture Linner, United Nations civilian chief in the Congo, it was duty bound to end by "its own means" the secession of Katanga Province. There were reports some government leaders were demanding an invasion of Katanga.

Reports reached this frightened city that tribesmen had killed two whites, slashed two others with their panga bush knives and kidnapped a white girl. White civilians were fleeing their homes near the camp outside the city.

SOME SLAIN

President Moise Tshombe told a news conference Thursday that Balubas also were attacking Katangese. A Swedish U. N. officer said Katangese snipers retaliated by killing 20 of the tribesmen.

From 30,000 to 35,000 Balubas were jammed into a camp outside Elisabethville and there were fears they might try to storm the city in force in search of food. Police had no trouble breaking up the band Friday but said a concerted food march would require heavy machineguns to halt.

There also were fears that the tenuous cease-fire between the United Nations and the Katangese army and gendarmerie would collapse. Many Katangese believed it was called for only 48 hours and that time expired at midnight.

Tshombe was advised to broadcast over radio Free Katanga that the cease-fire does not end Friday night. The cease-fire remained in effect, but both sides held barricaded positions.

Despite general nervousness, this capital city generally was quiet until the Balubas, refugees from tribal fighting in Northern Katanga, streamed into town on foot and on bicycle. They were armed with knives, axes, sticks and some guns.

Dr. Conor Cruise O'Brien, the chief U. N. civilian representative in Elisabethville, said the Balubas posed a definite threat to the white population here.

Dairymen To Oppose Milk Pool

A group of northeast Louisiana milk producers yesterday voted to oppose a new market-wide pool for purchasing milk, an attorney representing the producers said.

With about 125 producers meeting in Monroe, a majority of them voted against the pool system, attorney Ellis Magee said after the private meeting.

A steering committee headed by dairyman Phillip Cook of Lincoln Parish was named with several parishes represented to conduct a campaign against the pool system.

Magee said the pool system would cost the average dairyman in northeast Louisiana in excess of $100 per month. Under the pool system, an average price is paid for all milk produced by dairymen.

The Northeast Louisiana Milk Producers Association is proposing the pool system, but several association members were present for the meeting at the Holiday Inn.

Association manager J. K. Webb was present also. Magee said about 90 per cent of the producers present voted to fight the proposed new system.

Snow Ushers Out Summer

By United Press International
 A last-day-of-summer snowstorm pelted the Central Rockies Friday while Hurricane Esther, its punch gone, died at sea.

Snow and light rain hit most of Colorado and southeastern Wyoming, and the mercury dropped to a frigid 16 above at Big Piney, Wyo.

Yellowstone National Park roads were snow-packed but passable in the wake of a two-day snowfall that closed the south entrance and dumped drifts 10 to 12 feet deep on the Bearfoot Plateau between Red Lodge and Cooke City, Mont.

Snow continued to fall in Northwest Colorado, where an 18-inch snowfall hit the high mountain country Thursday and caused a power blackout at Steamboat Springs, Craig, Walden and Oak Creek.

Option Taken On Northeast State Acreage

Edgewater Garden Land Purchases Slated For College

The State Board of Education has taken an option from 70 to 100 acres of land in Edgewater Gardens for Northeast State College.

Valued at $3,000 per acre, the land will be purchased from Mrs. Joe Brown provided funds are appropriated by the State Bond and Building Commission.

In addition to the land owned by Mrs. Brown, the Board of Education also has an option on about three acres owned by Mrs. Anna S. Kalih in Edgewater Gardens for a right-of-way to the Brown property.

George T. Madison, a board member, of Bastrop said yesterday that the transaction was being handled by board member Nash Roberts, building committee chairman, of New Orleans.

SEVERAL PRICES

He's supposed to have several prices ready for the board at our next meeting," Madison said.

The board is scheduled to meet in Baton Rouge on September 29. Located across the bayou from Northeast State, the property is needed for expansion of the college, presently boxed in on about 52 acres.

The board has a $1,000 option on the Brown property and $100 on the Kalih land, which is being offered for $100 per front foot.

Both offer prices will go toward the purchase when it is approved. Meanwhile, an additional 30 acres is being sought across U.S. 80 from Northeast, but this transaction has not reached the option stage.

At Northeast, President George T. Walker said he was not in position to comment.

"This is a matter that pertains to the State Board of Education," Dr. Walker said.

Projected plans at Northeast call for relocating Brown Stadium to make room for buildings on the campus. New buildings also are included in the plans for the purchase of additional property.

The Ouachita legislative delegation is expected to make an appeal to the State Bond and Building Commission for funds to buy the land at the commission's next meeting.

Youth Dies Of Unusual Affliction

JONESBORO (Special) — A 13-year-old boy walking home from school slumped to the street, dead from what physicians termed a highly unusual affliction — acute swelling of the brain.

Danny Terrell had shown no signs of illness, his friends, teachers and church workers said Friday.

He was active in the work of Southside Baptist church and its Sunday School, attended eighth grade at Jonesboro — Hodge High School.

W. T. Bailey, school principal, said the youth never had any symptoms of fainting spells or blackouts.

But Thursday afternoon, Danny fell dead in front of the home of the Rev. W. A. Newsum.

Two other youngsters were with him. One of them, his uncle Paul Hunter, placed a schoolbook under his head, then ran to get the minister.

Rev. Newsum rushed Danny to Robinson's clinic, where Coroner Dr. John Robinson pronounced him dead.

An autopsy performed at Confederate Medical Center in Jonesboro is being conducted.

Need Of Strength Cited By Lassiter

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (Special) — "We must hold high the Holy Bible and the Constitution of the United States, or Khrushchev or an American counterpart will leave us empty handed," District Attorney Albin P. Lassiter of Monroe warned here Friday.

Lassiter was keynote speaker for the convention of Commonwealth (District) Attorneys of Virginia.

The two-day convention ended tonight.

Lassiter called for a firm position against the Communists on the Berlin question, a "public stand in behalf of the preservation of the Constitution," and action to inform the public of "the freedoms of organized crime."

"Russia is not scared of a shooting war," said Lassiter.

"Why are we? We have never run before."

"Unless we adopt a firm stand, we shall be weaker tomorrow than we are today."

"The world now admires and respects strength and power. Our money cannot buy admiration and respect of the world."

He quoted Charles Malik, former president of the United Nations, who recently said that "The West should stand firm in Berlin or withdraw. But present signs do not indicate any real firmness. It is still not too late to stand firm."

"This is a very serious time, a moment for action."

Speaking of the U. S. Constitution, Lassiter said:

Mansfield Says Sine Die Hour Still Uncertain

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Friday night thinned down the chances of congressional adjournment this weekend by talking a lot and acting very little.

The slowdown came after congressional leaders assured President Kennedy they could reconvene within 24 hours in the event international tension worsens.

VOTE TODAY

At issue in the Senate's evening session was the controversial Mexican labor bill, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield finally won agreement to put the issue over until Saturday, with a vote scheduled at 10 a.m. EDT.

A few minutes earlier, the Montana Democrat told United Press International: "It looks very likely that we'll be here next week."

Opponents of the present form of the Mexican labor bill said if they beat it Saturday they will move to send the issue back to a House-Senate conference committee with instructions to alter it.

Still to be passed and sent to the White House were the big public works, foreign aid and supplemental money bills, legislation creating an arms control agency, and the Mexican labor bill. A bill granting tax relief for DuPont stockholders was to be shelved until next session.

Foreign aid conferees still had not even reached agreement on the final figure in their bill. The supplemental and public works bills still had to go to conference with the House.

All this could be done in one day—and some congressional staff personnel still thought it would.

"On foreign aid, the House originally voted $3,657,000,000 in actual cash, the Senate $4,196,000,000."

A House-Senate conference committee was charged with compromising the differences but its members had trouble calling a meeting. They scheduled a bargaining session but it was cancelled at the request of House conferees who said they thought Senate members should be given a chance to clean up some other business first.

In a related development, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee unanimously approved the nomination of New York attorney Fowler Hamilton as foreign aid director after he promised to put the program on a sound management basis.

He was active in the work of Southside Baptist church and its Sunday School, attended eighth grade at Jonesboro — Hodge High School.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Marion Davies, a fabulous star in a fabulous era, died Friday after three years' illness from cancer. She was 64.

At her bedside were her husband, Capt. Horace Brown, a physician and two nurses.

Death came at 7 p.m. at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital, where she had been a patient since last May 16. She underwent jaw surgery June 7 for osteomyelitis — inflammation of the bone marrow.

Twelve days after the operation Miss Davies fell in her hospital room and broke her left leg.

A friend said that early in her illness she was told she had cancer, but that she had tried not to believe it. She was treated at several hospitals in this area.

Brown, 62, her husband of 10 years, is a former merchant marine skipper.

For 40 years Miss Davies lived in the grand manner of Hollywood's 1920s. In her screen heyday she occupied a beach home with 53 bathrooms, 37 fireplaces and 32 servants. Mansion and furnishings were estimated to have cost $4 million.

The blonde Miss Davies was a New York judge's daughter who became a Ziegfeld Follies showgirl, a model and then, still in her teens, a movie star.

SOUTHERN AIRWAYS Airline Favored By Board Ruling

Fifteen months of dispute between the Air Line Pilots Association and Southern Airways appeared near conclusion Friday, when a Civil Aeronautics Board examiner ruled in favor of Southern.

Examiner William F. Cusick held that Southern had bargained "in good faith" with ALPA since the pilots went on strike June 5, 1960, and that pilot complaints against the airway "should be dismissed."

The decision is subject to review by the CAB.

One hundred and 45 pilots struck in dissatisfaction over lack of certain fringe benefits in their new contract last year.

Southern hired non-union pilots to replace them.

After bargaining sessions, ALPA and the airline came to agreement. Union pilots, then refused to return to work because they had lost seniority during their strike. Pilots hired since that time outranked them.

The ALPA filed a complaint with the CAB, alleging that the airline "had refused to bargain in good faith."

Hearings were held during December and January, before Cusick. Representatives of Southern, the Union, and individual pilots testified.

Cusick decided the ALPA complaint should be dismissed. His decision coincided with a position taken earlier by CAB's office of enforcement.

Final action is expected by the

Delta Council Urges Full Cotton Acreage

DELHI (Special) — Reports of planned reduction of the 1962 national cotton acreage allotment have resulted in Louisiana Delta Council contacting the state's congressional delegation and requesting their opposition to such efforts.

The northeast Louisiana organization has recommended an increase of approximately 10 per cent over the 1961 acreage for 1962 and expressed alarm over reports that the U. S. Department of Agriculture seriously contemplates reduction to the legal minimum of 16,300,000 acres of cotton for 1962.

Emphasizing the necessity for an adequate 1962 national cotton acreage allotment, Louisiana Delta Council manager Harvey P. Grant Jr., Delhi, stated that during each of the past six years, the amount of cotton consumed in this country and exported has exceeded the amount produced. As a result, the cotton surplus has been eliminated. Carryover last August 1st was no larger than was needed for the transition to the new crop year.

In 1961, the acreage allotment was 18.5 million acres and production is estimated currently at 14.1 million bales. With increased business activity and Government spending, consumption will likely increase next year and the demand for cotton by foreign countries should continue strong.

Grant pointed out that there is every indication that the United States will need 15.5 to 16 million bales to be produced next year. This would require an increase in the allotment of 2 to 3 million acres for 1962. Even this amount will not provide for any buffer

Step Taken At Request Of Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission Friday barred racial discrimination on interstate buses or in their terminal facilities.

Acting on a petition filed May 29 by Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, the commission published rules which:

1. Forbid interstate bus operators from segregating seating on the basis of race, color, creed or national origin.
2. Prohibit interstate buses from using terminals where waiting rooms, rest rooms, lunch counters and other facilities are segregated on such a basis.

ISSUES REPORT

In its report adopting the rules, the commission said: "We find that in a substantial part of the United States many Negro interstate passengers are subjected to racial segregation in several forms."

"On vehicles, they continue to be subjected to segregated seating based upon race."

"In many motor passenger terminals, Negro interstate passengers are compelled to use waiting rest room and other terminal facilities which are segregated."

Kennedy's proposal was submitted to the ICC 15 days after a fire bomb was thrown into a busload of "Freedom Riders" on May 14 near Anniston, Ala.

The "Freedom Riders" were protests by Negroes and some white sympathizers against racial discrimination in travel facilities. Scores of the riders have been

U.S. Urges Action On U.N. Post

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk urged Friday that the General Assembly immediately appoint an "outstanding world leader" as interim U. N. administrator to replace Dag Hammarskjöld.

Rusk, in a New York speech to the Foreign Press Association, thus publicly threw U. S. support behind the drive of an informal committee of 13 non-committed powers to solve the crisis caused by Hammarskjöld's death in an African air crash late last Sunday.

The committee is working on a resolution inviting the Security Council to meet in a reasonable period to recommend a nominee for election by the General Assembly as secretary general.

Meanwhile, under the projected resolution, the assembly would name an interim administrator, carefully avoiding use of the title "secretary general" to avoid violation of charter rules on the election of the permanent top U. N. official.

The United States is understood to favor Mongi Slim of Tunisia, elected Wednesday as assembly president, for the interim post.

Rusk reaffirmed U. S. opposition to Russia's plan for a "troika" of three secretaries general, one each from Western, Communist and neutralist countries to run the United Nations jointly, each with veto power. At their lunch Thursday, he told Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, who is insisting on the "troika" plan for Hammarskjöld's succession, that the United States would not accept it and said the Communists could not muster the two-thirds vote necessary for its approval.

SOUTHERN AIRWAYS

Airline Favored By Board Ruling

Fifteen months of dispute between the Air Line Pilots Association and Southern Airways appeared near conclusion Friday, when a Civil Aeronautics Board examiner ruled in favor of Southern.

Examiner William F. Cusick held that Southern had bargained "in good faith" with ALPA since the pilots went on strike June 5, 1960, and that pilot complaints against the airway "should be dismissed."

The decision is subject to review by the CAB. One hundred and 45 pilots struck in dissatisfaction over lack of certain fringe benefits in their new contract last year.

Southern hired non-union pilots to replace them.

LOST SENIORITY

After bargaining sessions, ALPA and the airline came to agreement. Union pilots, then refused to return to work because they had lost seniority during their strike. Pilots hired since that time outranked them.

The ALPA filed a complaint with the CAB, alleging that the airline "had refused to bargain in good faith."

Hearings were held during December and January, before Cusick. Representatives of Southern, the Union, and individual pilots testified.

Cusick decided the ALPA complaint should be dismissed. His decision coincided with a position taken earlier by CAB's office of enforcement.

Delta Council Urges Full Cotton Acreage

DELHI (Special) — Reports of planned reduction of the 1962 national cotton acreage allotment have resulted in Louisiana Delta Council contacting the state's congressional delegation and requesting their opposition to such efforts.

The northeast Louisiana organization has recommended an increase of approximately 10 per cent over the 1961 acreage for 1962 and expressed alarm over reports that the U. S. Department of Agriculture seriously contemplates reduction to the legal minimum of 16,300,000 acres of cotton for 1962.

Emphasizing the necessity for an adequate 1962 national cotton acreage allotment, Louisiana Delta Council manager Harvey P. Grant Jr., Delhi, stated that during each of the past six years, the amount of cotton consumed in

Step Taken At Request Of Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission Friday barred racial discrimination on interstate buses or in their terminal facilities.

Acting on a petition filed May 29 by Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, the commission published rules which:

1. Forbid interstate bus operators from segregating seating on the basis of race, color, creed or national origin.

2. Prohibit interstate buses from using terminals where waiting rooms, rest rooms, lunch counters and other facilities are segregated on such a basis.

ISSUES REPORT

In its report adopting the rules, the commission said: "We find that in a substantial part of the United States many Negro interstate passengers are subjected to racial segregation in several forms."

"On vehicles, they continue to be subjected to segregated seating based upon race."

"In many motor passenger terminals, Negro interstate passengers are compelled to use eating, rest room and other terminal facilities which are segregated."

Kennedy's proposal was submitted to the ICC 15 days after a fire bomb was thrown into a busload of "Freedom Riders" on May 14 near Anniston, Ala.

The "Freedom Rides" were protests by Negroes and some white sympathizers against racial discrimination in travel facilities. Scores of the riders have been

U.S. Urges Action On U.N. Post

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk urged Friday that the General Assembly immediately appoint "an outstanding world leader" as interim U.N. administrator to replace Dag Hammarskjold.

Rusk, in a New York speech to the Foreign Press Association, thus publicly threw U.S. support behind the drive of an informal committee of 13 non-committed powers to solve the crisis caused by Hammarskjold's death in an African air crash late last Sunday.

The committee is working on a resolution inviting the Security Council to meet in a reasonable period to recommend a nominee for election by the General Assembly as secretary general. Meanwhile, under the projected resolution, the assembly would name an interim administrator, carefully avoiding use of the title "secretary general" to avoid violation of charter rules on the election of the permanent top U.N. official.

The United States is understood to favor Mongi Slim of Tunisia, elected Wednesday as assembly president, for the interim post.

Rusk reaffirmed U.S. opposition to Russia's plan for a "troika" of three secretaries general, one each from Western, Communist and neutralist countries to run the United Nations jointly, each with veto power. At their lunch Thursday, he told Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, who is insisting on the "troika" plan for Hammarskjold's succession, that the United States would not accept it and said the Communists could not muster the two-thirds vote necessary for its approval.

He stressed the need for a cotton acreage increase, Grant said. The secretary is required to announce the national cotton acreage not later than October 15.

He added that Congressmen Otto Passman and his Louisiana colleagues in the House of Representatives have joined in urging the Secretary to allocate sufficient acreage to produce the cotton to meet the demand here and abroad and to insure our national security, Grant said.

He added that Passman's Fifth District, consisting of fifteen parishes including the entire eleven-parish Louisiana Delta Council area produces more than half of the state's annual cotton crop which is estimated will exceed 100 million bales this year.

Story Reporting Slot Machine Was In Error

In a story carried in Friday morning's World concerning an argument between two Negroes in West Monroe which resulted in charges against both, we erroneously said one of them ripped off part of a nearby slot machine and struck the other across the arm.

It was not a slot machine. Instead, the Negro man, Dan Johnson, 20, ripped off the top gun section on a shooting gallery and struck the Negro woman, Katie Simmons, 22, on the arm with it.

The incident occurred at the Brown Gable Cafe, 510 Benson St. West Monroe police booked both.

Under the ICC rules, beginning Nov. 1 interstate buses and terminal facilities must display signs declaring that their use will be without regard to race, color, creed, or national origin by order of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

An ICC spokesman indicated the rules would not be applied strictly to "every independently operated corner drugstore which sells a few tickets for a motor carrier."

But he added that if an agent offers or provides travel and terminal facilities for interstate passengers, such as a public waiting room or eating facilities, "it would appear that the premises where these services and facilities are made available should be considered as part of the carrier's terminal facility."

The commission also will require interstate bus operators to report to the ICC within 15 days any interference by any person or group, including a political subdivision such as a state or county, with the carrier's observance of the regulations. The report must include a statement of what action the carrier may have taken to eliminate the interference.

"Obviously, we cannot anticipate the precise effect of application of the regulations to each and every factual situation that may arise," the commission said, "but the regulations ought to make clear the rights of passengers under the Interstate Commerce Act."

Friday's unanimous ruling by the commission on dealt only with buses under an act which gave the ICC much wider power over motor carriers than it has had since 1935.

The Justice Department asked the ICC to take administrative action in regard to buses because the commission had clear powers in that field. In addition, the "Freedom Rider" troubles involved almost entirely around buses and bus terminals.

Under court and ICC rulings, segregated seating on trains and buses has been forbidden in specific cases. But Friday's ruling clarified and extended the ICC's power on buses. It is understood, unofficially, that the commission is carrying on quiet negotiations with railroads seeking voluntary desegregation in their terminal facilities as well as in seating on trains which is largely desegregated now.

Her marriage to Brown in October 1951 was her first and his third.

Both were party-loving, prank-loving extroverts and their marriage was at times stormy. Twice she sued for divorce, but each time withdrew the actions.

It was difficult to separate legend from fact in her life, since her middle and late years often were covered with mystery.

A public relations firm representing her says she was born Jan. 1, 1897, in Brooklyn, N.Y. She was the daughter of Judge Bernard Douras and Rose C. Douras.

DRUM MAJOR Barbara Borgkvist of the Neville High School Band, directed by Herbert Gathright, was given 1st prize in the Louisiana Cotton Festival Parade in Bastrop. She is a senior at Neville High School. Bands from North Louisiana were divided into three classes, AA, B, C. Neville won the Class AA division over the West Monroe Rebel Band. Wimborsboro High School Band won the Class B division and the Delhi Band was 1st in the Class C division.

Dog Bites His Master's Hand

LONDON (UPI)—Rollo, an Alsatian payroll guard dog, bit the hand which feeds him but his master said Friday all was forgiven.

Rollo and two guards, William Collins and Basil Neaves, were guarding a $21,000 payroll Thursday when they were assaulted by five blackjack-wielding bandits.

Rollo leaped at one of the bandits, was hit by a blackjack and in the confusion turned on Collins, biting him while the bandits escaped with the money.

Shreveport revealed the cause. Physicians said there was no evidence of recent accident or injury, and that the swelling apparently was caused by an injury which occurred some time ago.

Today at 2 p.m., the Rev. Newsum and the Rev. Willie James will conduct funeral services at Southside Baptist church. Burial will be in Springhill cemetery near here, under direction of Southern Funeral Home.

Danny is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lindell Terrell, two sisters, Diane and Debbie and his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Hunter, all of Jonesboro, and his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Terrell, Dodson.

Rosemary Clooney To Divorce Ferrer

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI)—Rosemary Clooney said she would file divorce proceedings in Superior Court Friday charging actor-director Jose Ferrer with extreme cruelty.

The blonde singer went into seclusion after making the announcement, refusing to talk to anyone except her legal representatives. "Rosemary is terribly shaken up by her decision," said attorney Lewis Boies, representing the office of Hollywood lawyer Jerry Geisler. "But she has made up her mind and her decision is final."

Boies said no specific charges would be made.

"It's general cruelty," he explained. "The situation involved a divergence of interests, both personal and professional."

The Ferrers were married eight years and are the parents of five children ranging in age from 7 to 19.

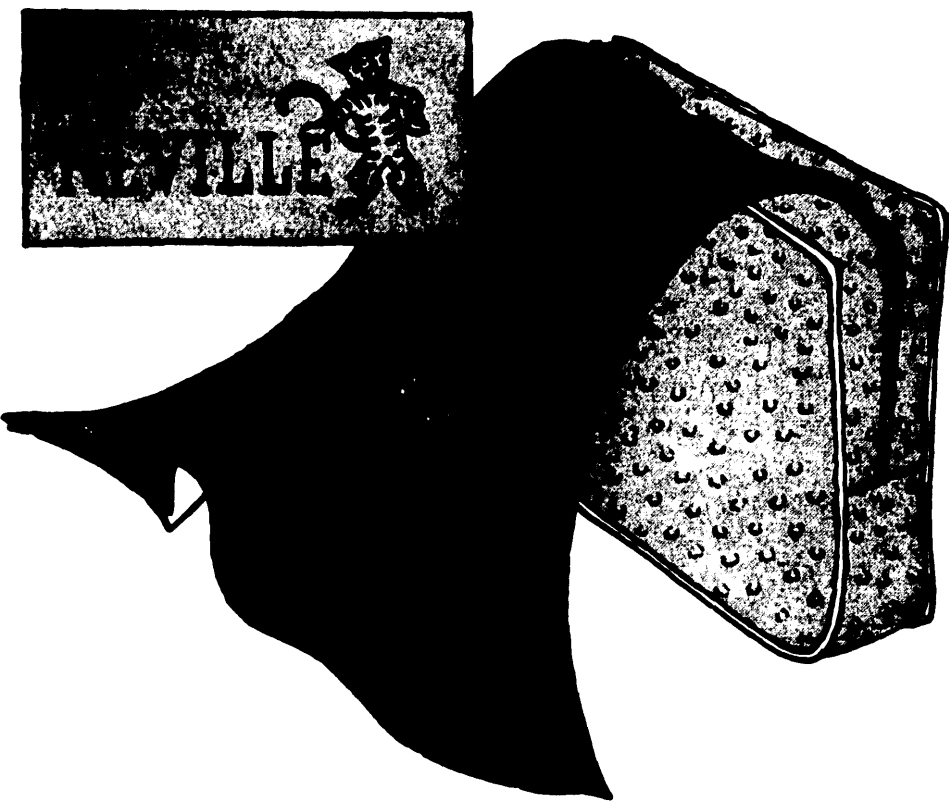

"Miss Clooney has asked the court to set reasonable support for herself and the children," Boies said. "She also has asked to be given the couple's Beverly Hills side."

Ferrer, in Dallas, Tex., directing a new version of the movie "State Fair" refused to discuss the situation.

A spokesman for the movie company said, "Mr. Ferrer seemed shocked by the news. He said, 'All I know is what I read in the newspapers. All comment will have to come from the other side.'"

Adenauer's Successor

Bullied by the United States into adopting a weak policy toward Russian aggression in Berlin, after he had first advocated a strong, aggressive course of resistance, Konrad Adenauer of Germany appears to have lost control of the nation's ruling body. Combining this fact with his age it is a virtual certainty that he will be replaced within the near future.

One thing which encourages the free nations is the fact that a man who is pro-western and who believes in free enterprise is seen as the most likely successor to Adenauer.

This man is Ludwig Erhard, the West German minister of economics, who is given most of the credit for his country's spectacular economic recovery since World War II. This recovery has amazed the world as it has watched West Germany climb from far down in the economic depths to nations of outstanding production and economic abundance.

Writing in his book, "Germany," Jerome Prittie, an expert on German affairs, says that Erhard, through his "free market economy" policies, provided the German people with the necessary incentive to create toward an unprecedented recovery and eventual prosperity.

In this book, Prittie says that it is Erhard who should be credited with the "miraculous" economic growth drawn up by the Christian Democrats in 1947, which envisioned public ownership of the coal and steel industries.

Erhard knew that the Germans, a naturally hard-working and industrious people, given freedom to earn, would work harder than ever before. He liberalized the restrictions on imports, lowered tariffs and arranged tax advantages for business concerns.

Right here we face a danger. All of this is approved by a majority of the American people but the Kennedy administration in the United States is working tooth and tongue for nationalization of everything from education to industry. It is hoped that the Kennedy administration won't sabotage Erhard's free enterprise policy.

Russia Saved By U.S.

It would be a good time now for the United States to remind Russia, her satellites and the neutral countries that the Soviets are changing the very hand that once saved their government.

It would be particularly effective now that Russia is trying to convert the United States as a nation of imperialists bent on helping the forces of fascism. Yet she herself received U.S. aid in 1923 and throughout World War II.

The truth of the matter is, the United States sent enough planes and munitions to Russia early in World War II to turn the tide of battle in favor of the Red Army. Otherwise, Russia might have been swallowed up by the Germans then and there.

President Roosevelt and his advisers were determined to believe that Russia would follow the pattern of western civility on a "blessed oblige" basis. In other words, we would help them and they would remember and appreciate the fact.

The Russian people never got the message, though they are by nature highly appreciative of small favors. An American aid was kept hidden from the masses and the officials said Russia won the war single handed.

So much for the extent Russia was supposed to have been obliged to us. The occasion has now arisen when we need to tell Russia and her friends how noble we were. In one sense this might be a painful process because it makes us look rather foolish in light of more recent developments.

Even to this day, the Russian people are not aware of the out-

complishments as did Adenauer for resisting Russian advances. For the sake of our country's safety from Russian conquest and domination, if for nothing else, the American government should support a German leader who believes in the old American principle of free enterprise and who favors the western nations.

Prittie says that one of Erhard's greatest talents was his ability to introduce programs "with remarkable flair for timing." Prittie, a longtime correspondent for the Manchester Guardian, says Erhard was a principle architect of currency reform in West Germany, a move which brought back goods into the shops and dealt a "death blow" to the black markets. Erhard was not afraid to call for sacrifices to maintain a sound economy. In this he was loyally backed by the federal bank.

Erhard's economic leadership, plus the fact that the Germans have worked "desperately hard," explains to some extent the German economic miracle which has produced so much progress and comfort in such a short time after the country was bankrupt, over-run by refugees and largely in ruins.

We now find the economic situation in West Germany at such a high level that that country has been importing many thousands of industrial workers.

It is safe to say that if West Germany remains on the side of the United States, as opposed to Russia, and that if that country is well supplied with arms, that nation will be the American government's best bulwark against Russian aggression. We say this advisedly, knowing that West Germany can be a more powerful ally even than Britain and a far more powerful and certain ally than France.

If the United States government should try to put the skids under Erhard, if he should become chancellor, as it did under Adenauer, it would be one of the greatest blunders in modern times. As long as Erhard holds to the principles of free enterprise and as long as he on our side he should have full American support.

During World War II, an incident in Vienna shortly after the cessation of hostilities showed they even thought the reverse was the case—that Russia was supplying vehicles to the United States. A Russian officer asked General Mark Clark who was in charge of the American sector of Austria: "General Clark, will you please tell me how your American Army got so many Russian jeeps?" At that time Russian factories had never produced a single jeep.

Former President Hoover recalls the famine in Russia during 1923 when he headed the American Relief Administration. He remembers ruefully how the leaders of the shakey Bolshevik regime told him at the time they would "never forget" how the United States saved an estimated 20 million Russians from starvation.

Now Khrushchev and the other Kremlin leaders would like to think the Soviet system gave birth to itself, grew strong and healthy and never lacked the means to defend itself.

This would be an appropriate time for the United States to remind a boasting, blustering Khrushchev his system has more than once stretched out a hand towards capitalism and humanity.

If we have any chips left in our pile of noble deeds, we could see what the world thinks of such action. We helped Germany and Japan to their feet following World War II and both have shown a great measure of appreciation.

Russia, on the other hand, uses every bit of her strength, no matter how obtained, to fight the free world.

Congress In Session 140 Days

Probably Will Adjourn Before October 1 With Record Which Satisfies Few, Another Page Of History

The current session of Congress this week will have been in session for more than 140 days. With its legislative program still uncompleted, it will probably adjourn before October 1, with a record which satisfies few, and constitutes only another page of history.

President Kennedy has proclaimed this as Constitution Week, September 17-23, to commemorate the signing of the document which most Americans and many foreigners regard as the greatest charter of government ever written. Yet its distinguished authors wrote and signed the Constitution of the United States not without misgivings, in less than 100 days during a hot and unconditioned summer in Philadelphia in 1787.

The president has in effect reminded the country that the anniversary of the signing is recalled by only a small percentage of those who live under the benefits of that document, which first proclaimed to the world the inalienable rights of U.S. citizens and the "radical" political philosophy that governments derive their just powers only from the consent of those they are created to govern.

The nation's day of historic celebration is July 4, when the Declaration of Independence sounded its trumpet call for liberty in defiance to British tyranny, but the declaration, symbolic as it was, did not create a nation. And yet doubt has been expressed here whether 50 per cent of adult American citizens now living have read the Constitution, which may be done in 30 minutes.

Until its adopting, the 13 colonies which had fought and won the revolution formed a loosely banded confederation, described as a "League of Friendship" into which the colonies which had declared themselves to be states, banded together to make the struggle for freedom a common cause.

Twelve years had passed since the declaration when the Constitutional Convention convened May 14, 1787, at Philadelphia, with George Washington, as president and presiding officer. The conflicts between the new states, the personal convictions of the delegates, and the economic differences between states could have forecast a deadlock, a wearying tug of war lasting many months and eventually disruption of the whole idea of a unified nation.

Fortunately nothing of the sort happened. The debate was sharp and the arguments for the most part well conceived for the states' representatives included a majority of the country's outstanding public figures of the time. Yet their names are not as well known as those of the signers of the Declaration of Independence.

The only outstanding figure in American colonial history not a delegate to the convention was Thomas Jefferson, who at the time was our minister to France. The fledgling country needed strong representatives at foreign capitals and in Paris especially, for the confederation had gone into debt to the tune of forty million dollars, a vast sum at the time, and owed two millions in back interest. Approximately one-fifth of the debt was in the form of loans from France, the Netherlands and Spain, all countries of vast influence with extensive holdings in the western hemisphere.

But there were Benjamin Franklin, Alexander Hamilton and James Madison, Jr., later the fourth president of the U. S. The debate was in secret, with any member who made any of the discussion public subject to expulsion. Not even a formal transcript was kept, so posterity is beholden to James Madison and several less known delegates who kept journals, which constitute the only record of the proceedings.

Thus we know that George Washington spoke only once, when just before moving the adoption of the completed document, he spoke for an amendment changing the number of members of the House of Representatives from not more than one for every 40,000 people to one for every 30,000. The amendment was adopted.

The vote was by no means unanimous. Of 65 delegates originally appointed by the states, 39 signed the Constitution, 10 never attended the convention, and 16 who attended did not sign. Among those who never showed up was Patrick Henry of Virginia, the firebrand whose "Give me liberty or give me death" was a rallying cry of the revolution. Only three states voted unanimously for South Carolina, Pennsylvania and Delaware.

Rhode Island delegates refused to attend the convention at all, and only two of New Hampshire's four showed up and not until July 27.

George Mason of Virginia, who later authored at least part of the Bill of Rights, the first ten amendments to the constitution, declined to vote because he opposed "indefinite powers granted to Congress."

But what they did in that hot summer has lasted for 174 years, and upon their work has been built the greatest nation in the world.

George Mason of Virginia, who later authored at least part of the Bill of Rights, the first ten amendments to the constitution, declined to vote because he opposed "indefinite powers granted to Congress."

Tours To France

People In That Country Concerned At Americans' Drop-Off

The French are apparently disturbed that Americans, this past summer, did not visit Paris in droves and spend their money like drunken sailors. France, as many other countries, takes tourism very seriously because it represents both a visible and invisible income and maintains the exchange rate between the two currencies. Every dollar left in France is beneficial to that country.

Undoubtedly, one reason why the tourist went elsewhere is that the American dollar bought less in many countries than heretofore. The American who can afford to travel may have as much cash as he had a year or five years ago, but he resents the double price system which prevails in many countries—that is, one price for natives and another price for Americans. Even if France this year breaks even on tourism, that is, gets about $300,000,000, the French are nevertheless concerned that large numbers of Americans are going to other countries and that the money they spend goes elsewhere. Tourism is traditionally an important factor in France's economy.

There are all kinds of Americans who travel. There is the school-teacher with limited funds; there are those playthings whose names appear in Elsa Maxwell's column. Economically, the moderate spending tourist, like the school-teacher or the student or the business man's wife is worth more, in tourism accounting, than the fancy rich who follow the seasons. Money is of the same value no matter where it comes from. The very rich rarely spend too much, and there are too few of them. It is the middle class person off on a spree who is the best spender.

It is like the exclusive restaurant in New York that most people cannot afford to go to. Not one of them earns as much annually as a chain restaurant that caters to large numbers. The prestige restaurant has its value, but money-wise, any place that caters to the mass trade earns more and earns it more easily.

In the United States, the two price system does not exist. Wherever in Europe, it does exist, the American tourist feels that he is a sucker and that he does not like it at all. Also, Americans are accustomed to paying tips, rather lavishly, but when the tip is put on the bill and they have to pay another one on top of that they feel that they are being robbed. Also, he wonders, and quite justly, whether the tip on the bill is paid to the waiter or maid who provides the service or whether part of it goes to the managers who are supposed to be above taking tips. Even in New York, when, at banquets, the guest reads a card to the effect that the host has paid the tips, waiters, on the side, complain that the busses swipe part of the tips. Nobody likes that. The two price system has given France a very bad name.

Also, a large number of Americans go to Asiatic and African countries; and to places like Greece and Hongkong where they can see something old and different and where prices are reasonable; Japan has built up a considerable tourist trade. Hongkong specializes in quick production of men's and women's made-to-order clothes at very reasonable prices. In fact, there has been a startling increase in American tourism to Hongkong.

When it was possible to bring into the United States considerable purchases from abroad, the trip could be calculated on that basis, but now that a $100 limit is being put on tourists' imports, still fewer will travel because the advantage of buying good clothes at comparatively cheap prices will be gone. A fancy dress is as expensive in Paris as in New York if the duty has to be paid.

Hotel men say that Americans are accustomed to first rate hotel service and that the European hotels are often not more than 19th century boarding houses, with toilet arrangements to which Americans are not accustomed any longer and with plumbing generally that does not suit the American taste. Also, since World War II, Americans have become increasingly critical of unsatisfactory conditions in European countries at what really amounts to high prices. The appearance of American managed new hotels in many parts of the world will make a difference. Americans are accustomed to body comforts and expect them.

Some have found more fun in an automobile, driving about the United States and seeing their own country in great comfort, particularly since the motel has come into existence.

How Do You Stand, Sir?

By BARRY GOLDWATER
U. S. Senator

The sad and tragic facts of the Cuban fiasco have now been revealed in both Fortune and Time Magazines. The Cuban invasion was a bloody failure and the bold New Frontier has lost its lustre. Timidity, a conflict of opinion and the inability of the administration to make a decision and stick to it, is responsible for the defeat of the Cuban patriots.

For the moment, at least, that crisis is passed—ended in defeat for the free world. We are now confronted with making a decision over Berlin and here the adversary is not a bearded fanatic; here we are confronted with the master tyrant of world communism.

The lack of resolution on the part of the Kennedy administration in Cuba cost the death of several hundred Cuban patriots and lowered American prestige throughout the world. But this loss can be redeemed and Castro can be overthrown. But in Europe the future of the whole free world hangs in the balance.

If the Kennedy administration vacillates, if it is unable to agree on a course of action, if we fail to deliver the support promised to our allies, the loss of West Berlin may never be redeemed short of World War III.

For 15 years the threat of massive retaliation has deterred the Russians and their East Berlin puppet government from gobbling up free West Berlin. General Eisenhower did not resort to the cheap, melodramatic, rocket-rattling atomic threats which have distinguished the actions of Khrushchev in recent months. He merely gave weight to an obvious military truth when he said: "We would not be drawn into a ground war in Europe." And the alternative to a ground war was clearly understandable to the Russians.

Mr. Kennedy and his advisers, the same advisers who could not make up their minds on Cuba, have abandoned massive retaliation in favor of limited ground warfare. Mr. Khrushchev, with a preponderance of conventional military strength at his disposal, obviously feels that now it is safe to move on free Berlin.

Khrushchev cynically announces one day that he will resume testing nuclear weapons and within a week fires his first test. Since this sort of action requires months of planning, it must be obvious, even to the Kennedy administration, that preparations for testing a nuclear device were being made in Russia while the Communist envoys were stalling for time at the conference tables in Geneva. No one, not even Khrushchev, wants to see the world destroyed by an all-out atomic war. To my mind, the kind of timid action, the inability or unwillingness to reach a decision which we displayed in the Cuban affair, is precisely the kind of tactics most likely to hasten the start of such a dreadful conflict.

How do you stand, sir?

Adenauer's Successor

Bullied by the United States into adopting a weak-kneed policy toward Russian aggression in Berlin, after he had first advocated a strong, aggressive course of resistance, Chancellor Adenauer of Germany appears to have lost control of the nation's ruling body. Combining this fact with his age it is a virtual certainty that he will be replaced within the near future.

One thing which encourages the free nations is the fact that a man who is pro-western and who believes in free enterprise is seen as the most likely successor to Adenauer.

This man is Ludwig Erhard, the West German minister of economics, who is given most of the credit for his country's spectacular economic recovery since World War II. This recovery has amazed the world as it has watched West Germany climb from far down in the economic depths to a nation of outstanding production and economic abundance.

Writing in his book, "Germany," Terence Prittie, an expert on German affairs, says that Erhard, through his "free market economy" policies, provided the German people with the necessary incentive to drive toward an unprecedented recovery and eventual prosperity.

In this book, Prittie says that it was Erhard who shunted aside the controversial "Ahlert program," drawn up by the Christian Democrats in 1947, which envisioned public ownership of the coal and steel industries.

Erhard knew that the Germans, a naturally hard-working and industrious people, given freedom to earn, would work harder than ever before. He liberalized the restrictions on imports, lowered tariffs and arranged tax advantages for business concerns.

Right here we face a danger. All of this is approved by a majority of the American people but the present administration in the United States is working a tooth and toenail for nationalization of everything from education to industry. It is to be hoped that the Kennedy administration won't sabotage Erhard for his free enterprise achievements.

Russia Saved By U.S.

It would be a good time now for the United States to remind Russia, her satellites and the neutral sympathizers that the Soviets are challenging the very hand that twice saved their government.

This would be particularly effective now that Russia is trying to classify the United States as a nation of imperialists bent on helping the forces of fascism. Yet she herself received U.S. aid, in 1923 and throughout World War II.

The truth of the matter is, the United States sent enough planes and armaments to Russia early in World War II to turn the tide of battle in favor of the Red Army. Otherwise, Russia might have been swallowed up by the Germans then and there.

President Roosevelt and his advisers were determined to believe that Russia would follow the pattern of western civility on a "no-blesse oblige" basis. In other words, we would help them and they would remember and appreciate the fact.

The Russian people never got the message, though they are by nature highly appreciative of small favors. American aid was kept hidden from the masses and the officials said Russia won the war single handed.

So much for the extent Russia was supposed to have been obliged to us. The occasion has now arisen when we need to tell Russia and her friends how noble we were. In one sense this might be a painful process because it makes us look rather foolish in light of more recent developments.

Even to this day, the Russian people are not aware of the out-

complishments as did Adenauer for resisting Russian advances. For the sake of our country's safety from Russian conquest and domination, if for nothing else, the American government should support a German leader who believes in the old American principle of free enterprise and who favors the western nations.

Prittie says that one of Erhard's greatest talents was his ability to introduce programs "with remarkable flair for timing." Prittie, a longtime correspondent for the Manchester Guardian, says Erhard was a principle architect of currency reform in West Germany, a move which brought back goods into the shops and dealt a "death blow to the black markets." Erhard was not afraid to call for sacrifices to maintain a sound economy. In this he was loyally backed by the federal bank.

Erhard's economic leadership, plus the fact that the Germans have worked "desperately hard," explains to some extent the German economic miracle which has produced so much progress and comfort in such a short time after the country was bankrupt, overrun by refugees and largely in ruins.

We now find the economic situation in West Germany at such a high level that that country has been importing many thousands of industrial workers.

It is safe to say that if West Germany remains on the side of the United States, as opposed to Russia, and that if that country is well supplied with arms, that nation will be the American government's best bulwark against Russian aggression. We say this advisedly, knowing that West Germany can be a more powerful ally even than Britain and a far more powerful and certain ally than France.

If the United States government should try to put the skids under Erhard, if he should become chancellor, as it did under Adenauer, it would be one of the greatest blunders in modern times. As long as Erhard holds to the principles of free enterprise and as long as he is on our side he should have full American support.

pouring of U.S. aid to the Soviet Union during World War II. An incident in Vienna shortly after the cessation of hostilities showed they even thought the reverse was the case—that Russia was supplying vehicles to the United States. A Russian officer asked General Mark Clark who was in charge of the American sector of Austria: "General Clark, will you please tell me how your American Army got so many Russian jeeps?" At that time Russian factories had never produced a single jeep.

Former President Hoover recalls the famine in Russia during 1923 when he headed the American Relief Administration. He remembers ruefully how the leaders of the shakey Bolshevik regime told him at the time they would "never forget" how the United States saved an estimated 20 million Russians from starvation.

Now Khrushchev and the other Kremlin leaders would like to think the Soviet system gave birth to itself, grew strong and healthy and never lacked the means to defend itself.

This would be an appropriate time for the United States to remind a boasting, blustering Khrushchev his system has more than once stretched out a hand towards capitalism and humanity.

If we have any chips left in our pile of noble deeds, we could see what the world thinks of such action. We helped Germany and Japan to their feet following World War II and both have shown a great measure of appreciation.

Russia, on the other hand, uses every bit of her strength, no matter how obtained, to fight the free world.

Congress In Session 140 Days

Probably Will Adjourn Before October 1 With Record Which Satisfies Few, Another Page Of History

The current session of Congress this week will have been in session for more than 140 days. With its legislative program still uncompleted, it will probably adjourn before October 1, with a record which satisfies few, and constitutes only another page of history.

President Kennedy has proclaimed this as Constitution Week, September 17-23, to commemorate the signing of the document which most Americans and many foreigners regard as the greatest charter of government ever written. Yet its distinguished authors wrote and signed the Constitution of the United States, not without misgivings, in less than 100 days during a hot non-air-conditioned summer in Philadelphia in 1787.

The president has in effect reminded the country that the anniversary of the signing is recalled by only a small percentage of those who live under the benefits of that document, which first proclaimed to the world the inalienable rights of U. S. citizens and the "radical" political philosophy that governments derive their just powers only from the consent of those they are created to govern.

The nation's day of historic celebration is July 4, when the Declaration of Independence sounded its trumpet call for liberty in defiance to British tyranny, but the declaration, symbolic as it was, did not create a nation. And yet doubt has been expressed here whether 50 per cent of adult American citizens now living have read the Constitution, which may be done in 30 minutes.

Until its adopting, the 13 colonies which had fought and won the revolution formed a loosely banded confederation, described as a "League of Friendship" into which the colonies which had declared themselves to be states, banded together to make the struggle for freedom a common cause.

Twelve years had passed since the declaration when the Constitutional Convention convened May 14, 1787, at Philadelphia, with George Washington, as president and presiding officer. The conflicts between the new states, the personal convictions of the delegates, and the economic differences between states could have forecast a deadlock, a wearying tug of war lasting many months and eventually disruption of the whole idea of a unified nation.

Fortunately nothing of the sort happened. The debate was sharp and the arguments for the most part well conceived for the states' representatives included a majority of the country's outstanding public figures of the time. Yet their names are not as well known as those of the signers of the Declaration of Independence.

The only outstanding figure in American colonial history not a delegate to the convention was Thomas Jefferson, who at the time was our minister to France. The fledgling country needed strong representatives at foreign capitals and in Paris especially, for the confederation had gone into debt to the tune of forty million dollars, a vast sum at the time, and owed two millions in back interest. Approximately one fifth of the debt was in the form of loans from France, the Netherlands and Spain, all countries of vast influence, with extensive holdings in the western hemisphere.

But there were Benjamin Franklin, Alexander Hamilton and James Madison, Jr., later the fourth president of the U. S. The debate was in secret, with any member who made any of the discussion public subject to expulsion. Not even a formal transcript was kept, so posterity is beholden to James Madison and several less known delegates who kept journals, which constitute the only record of the proceedings. Thus we know that George Washington spoke only once, when just before moving the adoption of the completed document, he spoke for an amendment changing the number of members of the House of Representatives from not more than one for every 40,000 people to one for "every 30,000." The amendment was adopted.

The vote was by no means unanimous. Of 65 delegates originally appointed by the states, 39 signed the Constitution, 10 never attended the convention, and 10 who attended did not sign. Among those who never showed up was Patrick Henry of Virginia, the firebrand whose "Give me liberty or give me death" was a rallying cry of the revolution. Only three states voted unanimously for — South Carolina, Pennsylvania and Delaware.

Rhode Island delegates refused to attend the convention at all, and only two of New Hampshire's four showed up and not until July 23.

George Mason of Virginia, who later authored at least part of the Bill of Rights, the first ten amendments to the constitution, declined to vote because he opposed "the indefinite powers granted to Congress."

But what they did in that hot summer has lasted for 174 years, and upon their work has been built the greatest nation in the world.

WASHINGTON SHORTS

SIZZLING N. Y. PRIMARY — With the New York City primary in its final week political brickbats are flying through the air in such profusion that anyone who fails to get hit probably feels he is slighted. With the mercury frying high, challenger Arthur Levitt went back to the way Mayor Wagner handled snow clearance last winter, characterizing him the "abominable snowman." Betters are wary, believing either Wagner or Levitt can win the September 7 primary, and that the winner can still lose the election in November.

STATE DEPARTMENT SHAKE - UP PLANNED — State Department shake - up seems slated by Berlin crisis. What looked like first reorganization step was an order which unfroze many of State's Civil Service employees, making it possible for these employees to be promoted to jobs in the Foreign Service, also for Foreign Service personnel to be transferred back to Civil Service. Some career officers took the order to mean that party politics would make headway and general effect would make it easier to bring Democrats in from outside by Civil Service appointment and promote them through foreign service. At any rate, some say morale has been injured. With best possible morale necessary to carry out foreign policy there is less talk of heads rolling overnight. But some White House insiders still say a surprisingly large number of faces will disappear from the State Department in next six months, both from the ranks of top career diplomats and second - echelon career officers.

Voice Of Broadway

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

Top flight model Nancy Berg confides to intimates that she would seek a divorce from her husband, actor Geoffrey Horne, if only she could find him. They split up five months ago and he disappeared. Nancy thinks he's somewhere in Italy. . . . Movie houses are reluctant to book the closed-circuit television of the upcoming Paterson. . . . McNeely heavyweight championship fight because they figure it will only last a couple of rounds. . . . Ava Gardner and Walter Chiari have finally gotten together in public. They made the Basin Street East scene with Debbie Reynolds and Harry Karl, and it would appear that Walter is the "Mr. Royal" in Ava's life.

It is expected that the long-banned French film "Les Liaisons Dangereuses" will gross $10,000,000 in the United States. The previous all-time grosser among the French pictures was "And God Created Woman," which raked up $6,000,000. . . . The betting on the chances of Roger Matus hitting 61 homers reached astronomical proportions with the bookies in New York and other cities around the country. . . . Rudy Vallee is burning because some of his lines in the forthcoming Broadway musical "How to Succeed in Business" have been eliminated.

A week ago we reported, "Washington insiders hear that the administration favors a dark horse to take over as chairman of the New York Democratic Party. He's William Posner, a Rochester accountant, who was the first county chairman in New York to come out for Kennedy's nomination."

At the time, local Democrats, who were convinced that the new state chairman would come from New York City—probably some one designated by Mayor Wagner—were pool-pooling the item. . . . Now have a quote from Washington correspondent Jack W. Germond, which appeared in the Rochester Times-Herald the following afternoon: "William M. Posner of Rochester definitely has been chosen by the Kennedy administration to become New York State Democratic Chairman."

"Reliable informants say he agreed to take the position at a meeting this morning with National Chairman John M. Bailey of Connecticut. . . . The decision is to be announced sometime later this month."

The dispatch went on to say the "mechanics of the transfer of the post from Michael H. Prendergast to Posner could not be learned."

Okay, let's reveal the "mechanics." Washington wants to leave the party status quo until after the elections. Then Prendergast will be asked to resign and Posner will take over. He will appoint a vice-chairman who will concentrate on the downstate area, leaving Posner more time to concentrate on the upstate sector with its huge Republican powerhouse.

The funniest postcard of the Summer came from Tony Perkins, somewhere in Greece—"I think it was addressed to me at the paper instead of my home, and a postscript gave the explanation: 'My address book blew out of a helicopter this morning.' (How many friends do YOU have who lose their little black books while flying over Greece?)"

The big mystery in the TV industry is why the excellent pilot film of Nat Hiken's new series, "Car 54, Where Are You?" wasn't used as the premiere show. The segment that went on instead was belted by the critics. Phyllis Diller, who opens a four-week engagement at the Blue Angel Sept. 21, will be drawing the biggest paycheck the club has ever written for a female performer. Four years ago, when Phyllis was getting $75 a week at the Purple Onion, the Blue

Angel management lured her away by offering her $150 a week plus transportation. . . . Producer Leonard Burton and his recent bride, Shirley Lewis, are calling it quits. . . . Jacques Bergerac, now in France with his current wife, Dorothy Malone, is studying guitar and flamenco dancing with a view to starring in cafes when he returns to the U. S. Attractive though he is, he's difficult to cast in movies and video dramas. . . . Italian newspapers are applauding Countess Mona Bismark (formerly Mrs. Harrison Williams), who spends her Summers in Capri. The countess noticed that the island she loves seems to be becoming more barren with every year, so she hired 30 German gardeners to plant trees and bushes at her expense.

Lillian Reis, the flashy Philadelphia night club owner accused of masterminding that city's biggest heist in years, carried on as if she were the star of a Broadway show. She showed up at a Philly after hours club, drank rather a bit too much and had a loud and colorful argument with her sweethearts, Ralph "Junior" Staino, who has been convicted and is out on bail pending an appeal. . . . Kim Hunter, the only American in the British cast of the thriller "Write Me a Murder" is working overtime to acquire an English accent. She rehearses eight hours a day, then takes two hours of British speech lessons.

YOUR PROBLEMS

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a girl 20 years of age who is going with a fellow 27. Boris had one unsuccessful marriage and doesn't want another one. His first wife was a brainless little gadabout who didn't know beans about how to keep house or how to be a wife. This fellow brings his laundry over once a week so I can practice on his shirts and get them just the way he wants them. He's very fussy about the amount of starch and all. He says if I get it down to perfection now it will save arguments after we are married.

My father gets very burned up when he sees Boris bringing his laundry over here. He says his mother should be taking care of his clothes. Who is right? —AIMING TO PLEASE

Dear Aiming: Your father. If you want to practice ironing why don't you do Dad's shirts? You can conquer the starch problem later.

Dear Ann Landers: You seem like a broad-minded person. I hope you'll give me the answer I want.

I've been going with a very nice man for several months. He has a peculiarity that drives me crazy. He refuses to have even one drop of liquor. I'm no lush. Ann, in fact, three is my limit but I "do" enjoy one or two cocktails before dinner when we eat out. It's very embarrassing for a woman to order a drink when her escort sits there and says "No thank you." He makes her look like a fool—or worse yet, a solitary drunk.

Last night there were others present and I asked him to order a mild cocktail just to be sociable. You know liquor makes people more jovial and friendly. He refused in front of everybody. I say a gentleman would have ordered one drink and sipped it just to be polite. Right? —BETSY

Dear Betsy: Wrong. Your friend may be an alcoholic who should not have even one teaspoon of liquor, much less one drink. Since he's good enough to let you drink if you wish, then you should be good enough to let him "not."

Dear Ann Landers: Please let me describe myself to you and then tell me what I can do about it.

Well, first my hair is straight as a string and no matter what I do with it, it won't curl. Then there is my face. I have blue eyes which are quite small. Is there anything that can be done about small eyes? My nose is too big for my face. My figure isn't bad but I am too heavy in the middle. I have been doing exercises to get my waistline down but so far I can't notice any results.

I'm O. K. around girls but when I get around boys I remember how ugly I am and then I freeze up. If I can suggest some beauty hints to help me out I would appreciate it. —PLAIN UGLY

Dear Plain: You'll never win a beauty contest — so what? Too many girls who consider their face their fortune wind up bankrupt. Forget about your small eyes, and your straight hair. Concentrate on developing a pleasant personality. If you are friendly and fun to be with the fact that you're no beauty won't matter.

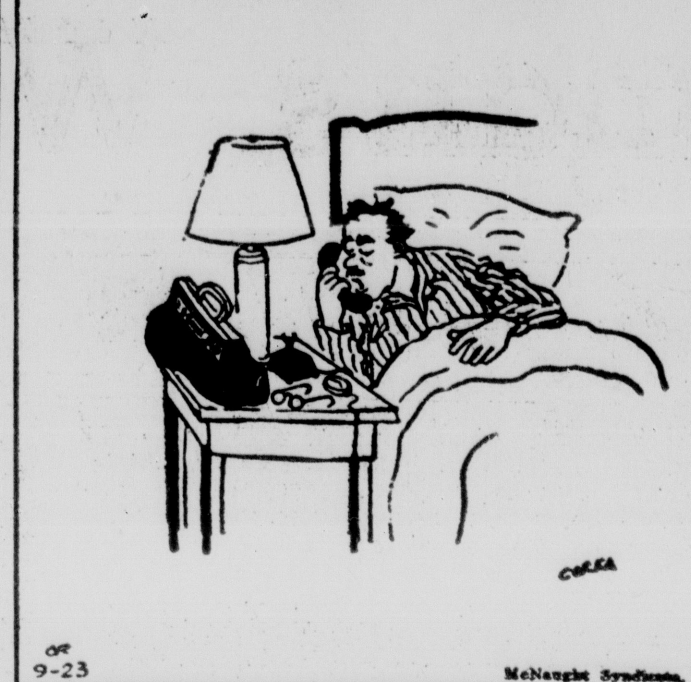

Are you tempted to smoke because the crowd does? If so, send for "Ann Landers' booklet, 'Teenage Smoking,' enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

HAS THE ANSWER
EAST CHICAGO, Ind. (UPI)—Criminal Court Judge John H. McKenna believes he has found an answer to Indiana Blue Laws violators who "harass the court" by demanding jury trials.

"We'll just docket these jury cases for the week before Christmas. I don't think they'll like that so much," McKenna said.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

DEAR ABBY

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 14 and have a problem. My mother and I disagree about correcting people when they make a mistake in pronouncing words, or use them in the wrong place. My mother says it is wrong to correct your mother or father or any elderly person in private or in front of others.

I said I didn't think there was anything wrong with correcting people in a polite way in private or in front of people. I don't think anybody is ever too old to learn. Who is right? —"PERFECTIONIST"

DEAR PERFECTIONIST: Your mother is wrong. Honey, but she is still your mother. The pride of older people suffers when they are corrected by children, even if the correction is offered politely and in private (as it should be). So drop the practice and remember—you may have a "perfectionist" of your own some day.

DEAR ABBY: A rather irate woman wrote to tell you that a child today can name all the players on the Yankee and Giant teams, but ask him who God is and he doesn't know.

If this remarkably well-informed lady will tell me or anyone else just who God is, she will have answered a question that has remained unanswered for thousands of years. Sincerely, —LYNNE

DEAR ABBY: Recently my brother passed away. He left a wife and two step-children (when he married this woman she was a widow with two children). She had been married to my brother less than two years, but this is what she did. She had him buried in a plot next to her first husband! When my parents found out where he was being buried they almost went into shock. As though this wasn't bad enough, this plot is a family plot for "her" family. We wanted our brother buried with "his" family. Did she have a right to do this? Can we take legal action against her? —UP IN ARMS

DEAR UP: Calm down. There is nothing you can do.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "E. F." Gentlemen traditionally prefer blondes—but marry brunettes.

"Are things rough?" Let Abby help you solve your problem. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and send to Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

WITH FOUR TEETH. THE EATING ISN'T EASY! Mrs. A. R. writes, "Ever since my baby was 7 months old, she has refused baby food in any form. I have tried straining the table food but to no avail. She is 9 months now and has only four teeth."

"The doctor has told me not to worry about the teeth as she will be cutting them soon. In the meantime, she refuses baby food and can't chew table food. I am afraid she will become anemic from lack of food. Will you please give me some help?"

At 9 months of age, she should be able to take table food if you mash the vegetables and fruits with a fork, and either cut the meat up fine or run it through a grinder.

I would try to give her some appetite-builder-upper so that she would build up better, to all foods. Wheat germ, along with her other cereal, wheat germ oil in some of her milk, or a small portion of Brewer's yeast, dissolved in orange or pineapple juice—any of these would build up her appetite.

Many children come to dislike strained foods after months of eating them. If she won't accept the junior-type foods, then give her table food in any form in which she can manage it.

Tiny cubes of meat do not take much chewing to be digested, and she probably will be delighted to share your meals with you and get small helpings of all you have to eat which is mashed or cut to her limitations.

Mrs. D. E. — I am sorry, but either you read this in some other column or there was a misprint in the word. It probably was meant to be non-hydrogenated not non homogenized.

Yes, the liverwurst is exactly the type you buy in the meat-market. It is a good food for children and you can use it as a form of meat at any meal at which you would serve meat.

The booklet, "All About Feeding"—from six months to two years," will help you solve your feeding problems. To obtain it, send 25 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

JFK Foreign Aid Program Chief Okayed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee has unanimously recommended that the Senate confirm the nomination of international lawyer Fowler Hamilton to head the foreign aid program.

Acting after a 45-minute public hearing Friday at which Fowler promised he expected to be held accountable, the committee approved President Kennedy's choice of the 50-year-old New Yorker.

Hamilton was named to head the new Agency for International Development, which will supplant the International Cooperation Administration now headed by Henry R. Labouisse.

Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., committee chairman, told Hamilton during the hearing that there has been criticism of "loose administration" of foreign aid spending and that as the new chief he would be expected to correct this.

Fowler said he had only one financial interest that might possibly pose a "conflict of interest" in his new job and will therefore divest himself of all stock and connection with an international enterprise involved in development of a large iron ore field in Liberia.

He said he also plans to give up association with the international law firm of Cleary, Gottlieb Steem & Hamilton in which he is a senior partner.

Sen. Wayne D. Morse, D-Ore., cautioned Hamilton that the foreign aid program will be under constant scrutiny for signs of "any attempt to advance the cause of cartelization around the world" with foreign aid help.

"Some of us are very much concerned about the great American monopolies," Morse said, contending they want to take over rich natural resources in Africa and hope for a chance to use foreign aid to do so.

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Rosa Gonzales, 22-year-old Texas woman, has admitted the fatal shooting of her male companion in a French Quarter hotel.

Police say they will charge Miss Gonzales, of Galveston, Tex., with murder in the slaying of Roberto Perez, 29, also of Galveston.

The hotel manager's wife said she heard several muffled shots fired and moments later Miss Gonzales, sobbing hysterically, began knocking on the manager's apartment door Thursday night.

Miss Gonzales laid a pistol on a table in the apartment and said she had shot Perez, police reported.

She later told police that Perez had hit her and thrown the gun across the room. She said she picked it up and shot him.

Police said, however, they found no evidence of a scuffle in the apartment in which the couple had checked into earlier Thursday, paying a week's rent in advance.

GOP To Seek Congress Gains In South States

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Four Republican Congressmen will invade the south next month in an attempt to break the virtual monopoly held by Democrats in Dixie congressional races.

Rep. William C. Cramer, R-Fla., will lead the GOP delegation through districts in Florida, West Virginia, North Carolina and Louisiana.

"Chances for GOP success in the upcoming congressional races look the brightest in these states," Cramer said.

The tour will start Oct. 24 and end Nov. 2, Cramer said exact dates and locations will be announced later.

Cramer, vice chairman of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee, will be accompanied by Reps. Samuel L. Devine of Ohio, James E. Bromwell of Iowa, and John M. Ashbrook of Ohio.

Cramer said the Republicans will emphasize the need for a GOP majority in the House and the development of a two-party system in the south.

TERRYCLOTH

Terrycloth is a welcome guest at banquet and barbecue alike. Whether it's a rustic place mat for the patio — or a high-style full cloth for the dining room — terrycloth is now an appropriate, full-fledged table "linen."

And no wonder. What could be easier to care for! Just pop this durable fabric into the washer with hot soap and detergent suds. Then drip or spin it dry, ready for the table again.

SPENDING THE PAST week in Monroe visiting her son and his family, Dr. and Mrs. Carlton Kemp, was Mrs. Carlton Kemp, Sr. She was joined on Friday by Mr. Kemp, and they returned to their home in Lafayette on Monday of this week.

Mrs. Tilbury, Recent Bride Honored With Luncheon

The Green Room of the Louisiana Hotel was the setting for a luncheon honoring Mrs. Henry W. Tilbury Jr. on Saturday, September 16, 1961. Mrs. Warren S. White Jr. and Mrs. Gale Carter were hostesses for the occasion.

The table, overlaid in white linen, was decorated in shades of pink, ranging from light tones to darkest, and the centerpiece was fashioned of pink toned dahlias and greenery in a silver bowl. Ivy trailed the length of the table. Flanking the centerpiece were burning tapers in silver candelabras.

The hostesses presented a gift of crystal glasses to the honoree. Mrs. Tilbury chose to wear a tulle dress in shades of blue, with which she wore a corsage fashioned of Rose of Montana and white dahlias, also a gift from her hostesses.

Place cards with tiny valley lilies marked places for the following: Mrs. Henry Tilbury Jr., Mrs. Henry Tilbury Sr., Mrs. Hassell Clark, Mrs. W. T. Blackwell, Mrs. Don Bacon, Mrs. Max Brodax, Mrs. Louis Cox, Mrs. J. B. Williams, Mrs. Sam Roiser, Mrs. Norris, and the hostesses.

"HOT WASH" Even though fine china may look too delicate to withstand extremely hot water, it isn't! Wash your "good" dishes promptly and carefully — with a clean dish-towel spread over the bottom of the sink to protect against chipping and breaking. Sanitary reasons demand that all dishes be washed in hot, hot suds and rinse water.

VINYL Painting vinyl wall coverings when you become tired of the old color is easy if proper methods are used. Smooth vinyl without a design should get a first coat of alkylid flat wall paint, followed by a latex or an alkylid. A printed vinyl must be given a first coat of latex primer sealer. The second coat: latex, or an alkylid.

'Soft Sell' Pays Off In Congress

By WILLIAM THIES
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The political soft sell has paid off in Congress, particularly in the Senate, where the administration's policies have been accepted more readily than in the House.

The political soft sell has been a key factor in the Senate's acceptance of the administration's policies, particularly in the case of the new foreign aid program. The Senate has passed the bill with only one dissenting vote, while the House has rejected it by a wide margin.

On Capitol Hill, Senate Democrats have been particularly receptive to the administration's proposals. They have argued that the new program is a necessary step in the fight against communism and that it will help to stabilize the economies of the developing world.

Montana has presented the case for the new program. "We need a new approach to the problem of foreign aid," he said. "The old approach was to give money to the government and let them do as they please. Now we are going to give money to the people and let them decide for themselves what to do with it."

Soviets Reaping Global Criticism

WASHINGTON (AP) — A U.S. study has found that the Soviet Union's renewal of atomic testing has caused the worst Soviet propaganda setback since Red tanks crushed the 1956 Hungarian revolt.

But the global criticism of the Kremlin has not been matched by an equal upswing in pro-American sentiment. Asians and Near Easterners generally said in effect: "A plague on both your houses."

That assessment was issued Friday by the U.S. Information Agency following a study of overseas press and radio commentaries on the Soviet resumption of nuclear tests Sept. 1. The United States followed soon after, though its underground blasts did not contaminate the air as have the Soviet atmospheric explosions.

USIA, which dispenses U.S. propaganda abroad and samples opinions about Uncle Sam, found that "The Soviet resumption of nuclear testing has produced a worldwide reaction more hostile to the USSR than any since the repression of the Hungarian rebellion in 1956."

Overseas critics protested both the danger to the world and the potential impairment of health of the world's population. USIA said that "The Soviet resumption of nuclear testing has produced a worldwide reaction more hostile to the USSR than any since the repression of the Hungarian rebellion in 1956."

City Dump Lease Set At Ruston

RUSTON (Special) — This North Louisiana town has leased its city dump.

And stands the chance of getting rich off it.

The City Council leased the 80-acre tract to J. N. Buchanan, representing several oil companies, for $4,880 bonus for three years.

The lease calls for paying one-sixth royalty on all gas and oil sold off the tract.

The property on which the city dump is located, outside the corporate limits, is located on sections 20 and 29 of Township 18 North Range 2 west.

In his bid for leasing the property, the only one received by the city, Buchanan revealed that plans are to drill in the center of section 21, directly east and a little north of the city dump.

Buchanan said he had recently contracted for leases of over 650 acres in sections 19, 20, 21, 22, 27, 28 and 31. A portion of the leases are reportedly within the city limits of Ruston.

A 9-800-foot wildcat well will be drilled, Buchanan said in his lease bid that Ruston had a "good chance" to be in one of the units around off - set wells should the planned wildcat be successful.

The bid amounts to $61 per acre. Plans were begun to sign the lease agreement at a continued meeting later this month and send it to the state mineral board for approval.

In other action city taxes for 1961 were set by the council to remain the same as last year. Total millage for the city is 20 mills, the mayor revealed in presenting the tax ordinance for the year.

The Council also agreed they would not purchase any foreign-made equipment for power plant expansion, because they favor American commerce.

Richard Smith of the city planning commission revealed that a set of subdivision regulations was being prepared that would place the responsibility of regulating the subdivisions solely in the hands of the zoning board. They would act independently of the city council, according to state law, it was explained. He was told to proceed on that basis.

The council voted to advertise for bids on a new street sweeper.

Soviets Reaping Global Criticism

WASHINGTON (AP) — A U.S. study has found that the Soviet Union's renewal of atomic testing has caused the worst Soviet propaganda setback since Red tanks crushed the 1956 Hungarian revolt.

But the global criticism of the Kremlin has not been matched by an equal upswing in pro-American sentiment. Asians and Near Easterners generally said in effect: "A plague on both your houses."

That assessment was issued Friday by the U.S. Information Agency following a study of overseas press and radio commentaries on the Soviet resumption of nuclear tests Sept. 1. The United States followed soon after, though its underground blasts did not contaminate the air as have the Soviet atmospheric explosions.

USIA, which dispenses U.S. propaganda abroad and samples foreign opinions about Uncle Sam, found that: "The Soviet resumption of nuclear testing has produced a worldwide reaction more strongly anti-Soviet than any event since the repression of the Hungarian rebellion in 1956."

Overseas critics protested both the threatened danger to the peace of the world and the threatened impairment of health to the world's population, USIA said.

The editorial comments went as might be expected in the West, where Moscow was almost uniformly attacked, and in Communist China, where the Soviet tests were praised as "a powerful inspiration to all the peoples striving for world peace."

In other areas where hundreds of millions of people take a more detached view of the East-West contest, USIA found these reactions:

Near East and South Asia—"Although the 'plague on both your houses' theme has been played generally, no evidence appeared in either the Pakistani or Indian press to indicate any acceptance of Soviet Premier Khrushchev's explanation for the resumption of testing."

"Editorial comment in both these countries has been heavy and extremely critical of Soviet testing without any resulting strong movement in support of the U.S. position.

"The Arab national press used strong language in its criticism of the Soviet Union."

Africa—"Although all African areas were shocked at the Soviet test resumption, their comments have been restrained."

Far East—"Japanese media, expressing the most outspoken concern in the Far East, were most critical of the Soviet Union."

"In Thailand, Taiwan (Formosa), South Korea, South Viet Nam and the Philippines, the Soviet Union was strongly denounced."

Latin America—"The Latin American press seemed more aroused by the menace of radioactive fallout than the prospects of nuclear war."

Trojans 24, Farmers 0

FARMERVILLE (Special) — Tallulah's Trojans opened defense of their state Class A championship here last night with a 24-0 victory over the Farmerville High Farmers whose defense contained the champs in all but the middle quarters.

Chapman Lee wrapped it up for the Trojans with touchdown runs of 25 and 94 yards respectively in the third quarter.

Farmerville's line blocked all attempted kicks for points after touchdowns. Eddie Albritton and Larry Long played outstanding defensive ball for the Farmers, while Neuman, Richard Peeples, and Donald Hodge were outstanding performers for Tallulah.

The game was the district 2-A season opener for both clubs.

After the Tigers took over they drove down and scored their first touchdown with fullback Donald Arnold powering up the middle for the last two yards and the TD. Halfback Jimmy Moody kicked the point after to make it 7-0.

A few minutes later Moody broke over guard and raced 49 yards for a quick TD. His attempted kick was no good, leaving the score 13-0.

Late in the final period Bernice started a drive but Coushatta's defense stiffened and held them four yards from paydirt.

Bernice chalked up 12 first downs and 220 yards rushing and passing to Coushatta's eight first downs and 160 total yards.

Bulldogs Rout Giants

FERRIDAY, La. (Special) — The Ferriday High Bulldogs, looking more like the kind of local machine that was winning state championships a few seasons ago, exploded a 480-yard total offense last night to wallop their double-A visitors, 46 to 6.

Ferriday mixed an effective ground game with a spectacular air show to subdue the Giants whose total offense netted 136 yards and eight first downs. Ferriday showed only seven first downs during the Bulldogs' seven-touchdown binge.

LAKE PROVIDENCE, La. (Special) — Quarterback Mark Brown hit end Lester Johnson with a third quarter pass that broke a 6-6 tie and gave the Rayville Hornets a 12-6 victory over the Lake Providence Panthers last night.

The touchdown play covered 45 yards.

Lake Providence got its touchdown in the first quarter on a 45-yard sprint by Chuck Markey. DeWayne Copeland, Rayville fullback, tied it up when he rumbled the middle from the four.

Rayville led in first downs, 10 to 7.

Markey's offensive work and Billy Young's defense were outstanding for the Panthers. Copeland was best in the Rayville offense, with Billy Miller leading the defense.

LaGrange Loses

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — Halfback Jerry Moaty, brother of former Arkansas All America Jim Moaty, crashed over from the one yard line with 9:20 to play Friday night to give El Dorado a 7-0 victory over LaGrange High of Lake Charles, La.

Caldwell ran five yards for the opening touchdown and then took a pass from Bonduant from the six for his second. Caldwell capped his night's work with a 60-yard touchdown jaunt in the fourth quarter.

Dodgers Beat Cards, 6-3 To Stay In Race

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Don Drysdale and Ron Perranoski combined to pitch the Los Angeles Dodgers to a 6-3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals Friday night and keep the Dodgers faint National League pennant chances alive.

Cincinnati's defeat by San Francisco cut the league-leading Reds' margin to four games.

Wally Moon had a two-run double and Duke Snider a solo home run, his 16th, to spark the Dodgers' eight-hit attack on three Red pitchers.

Drysdale, who never has finished a game at Busch Stadium in nine starts, again was a jinx victim. Leading 6-3, he gave way to Perranoski with two outs, two on and the dangerous Bill White at bat in the seventh inning.

Perranoski struck out White and went on to preserve Drysdale's 12th triumph. He has lost nine.

The Dodgers picked up three runs on only one hit when starter and loser Ray Sadecki, now 14-9, suddenly lost his control in the third inning. Three walks loaded the bases and Gil Hodges hit a sacrifice fly for one run and Ron Fairly singled for another.

Bobby Miller relieved at that point and a passed ball and Julian Javier's error on Snider's pop-up brought in the third run. The Dodgers got to Miller for two more in the fourth on Maury Wills' single and doubles by Jim Gilliam and Moon.

Lindy McDaniel came into pitch out of trouble but was tagged for Snider's seventh inning homer.

The Cards scored all their runs on home runs. White hit his 20th in the first inning for their first score and Carl Sawatski delivered his 10th after Ken Boyer's single in the sixth.

Darden Interception Key In Lions Win Over Ruston

Ouachita's defense was the deciding factor in their grudge match with Ruston here last night, a game that had been heralded as an offense-defense game, featuring Ruston's running and the Lions' defending.

With 6:20 left in the third quarter Ouachita fullback Billy Darden intercepted Ruston tailback Melvin Ray Show's pass at the line and 31 on passes for a 45 yard combination.

Shows, Kirby and wingback Charles Monroe got off several good runs and at times had the Notre Dame box working well.

In the line end Tommy Parker was a rock. He repeatedly dumped Lion quarterback Dennis Warner for big losses to eat up much of the meager yardage Ouachita got by running.

Another Ruston standout was tackle Wayne Gray.

FIRST HALF

Neither team could score in the first half.

Ruston got off two good drives. In the first quarter they advanced as far as Ouachita's 30 on a 39-yard march that began on their 31 and took 11 plays.

A 15-yard roughing-the-kicker penalty on fourth down that moved the skin to the Lion 38 kept the drive alive.

Another penalty ended the bid. This one was for five yards at the 30 on third down and it completely stalled the Bearcat machine when a pass fell incomplete and a ground play gained only three.

Ruston really exploded late in the second period, driving 50 yards in 11 plays from their 13 to Ouachita's 35.

With Shows and Kirby ploughing through big holes up the middle, and Monroe eating up yardage on the reverse the Cats seemed TD-bound.

The crucial play that determined otherwise was a fourth down and one situation around the Ouachita 35.

Kirby headed toward the middle, but finding no hole veered to his left and attempted to skirt end. He was short by about two feet.

Ouachita got into the act then. First Parker dumped Warner back to his 21, then Warner lofted a long one that Darden stole from a Ruston defender and held on to at the 45.

But the Lions couldn't move anymore and had to kick just before the half ended.

SECOND HALF

Some 5:40 deep in the third quarter Darden grabbed Shows aerial at the Ouachita 40 and raced down the Ruston five.

On the next play Via blasted through a good opening into Ruston's end zone for the game's only score.

Warner tried to pass after faking the extra-point try, but could find no receivers and ran. The play failed and Ouachita was out 6-0.

For the rest of the game the Lions defense coupled with kicking of Trimble kept Ruston hog-tied.

For most of the remainder of the second half, Ruston couldn't get out of its own territory.

Shows did uncork a desperation

Rush For Tickets To World Series Hits Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — The rush for World Series tickets began here Friday.

More than 9,000 letters of application were forwarded to the Cincinnati Reds by the main post office which had agreed to hold all mail for the National League-leading baseball club until 6 p.m. More letters were mailed at suburban post offices.

That was the deadline the Reds would start taking applications for tickets. Red officials will draw ticket applications at random from the stacks mailed in to give everybody an equal chance.

At the main post office, two extra men were assigned to help write out money orders to go with the applications.

While several hundred fans—aged roughly between 8 and 80 and including one man on crutches—milled about the post office lobby, waving their letters and talking excitedly about the first World Series here since 1940, Cincinnati police finished making plans for the big event.

Extra patrolmen will be assigned to Crosley Field, Fountain Square and other key points to cope with the celebrations expected when the Reds clinch the National League pennant. This could happen during the three-game home stand with the San Francisco Giants this weekend.

Sailing Champs

RYE, N.Y. (AP) — Axel and Erik Schmidt, the 22-year-old twins from Brazil, won the final two races Friday and captured the World Snipe Class Sailing Championship.

The Brazilians scored four victories in the seven races and piled up 9,442 points in the competition on Long Island Sound.

Neville Tigers Stampede
Tors 53-6 In 2-A Battle

The powerful Neville Tigers got their district campaign off to a successful start last night as they crushed the Golden Tornadoes from Haynesville 53-6.

The Tigers actually got off to a slow start and were behind 6-0 late in the first quarter, but suddenly came to life and by halftime were coasting along with a 27-6 lead.

Haynesville started off with a bang taking the opening kickoff and putting together a sustained drive which covered 66 yards to put them ahead 6-0 with a 42-yard punt.

The big play in the drive came on the five yard line with four first downs. The drive consumed 14 plays and four first downs.

This one was a beauty. After moving the ball to the fifteen on three plays, Saget hit End Kurt Guelow with a quick pass and Guelow immediately lateraled to fullback Sam Walker who raced the remaining 10 yards untouched for the score. Terzolas added the extra point, and as the half ended the score stood 27-6.

The second half read "smack" as the Tigers scored two more in the third. One came on a five yard plunge by Payne, and the other on a 30 yard scamper by Yergers. Yergers' score was set up by a line play interception by end Hershel Walker.

When the dust finally settled at the end of the third quarter the scoreboard read Neville 47 and Haynesville 6.

Both clubs played their second teams most of the fourth quarter, and Neville managed the only score. The touchdown came on a beautiful pass play, which covered 33 yards, from Chip Plan-ard to Tom Sparks. The extra point try was no good, but that's the way the ball bounces and Neville had to be satisfied with just 50 points instead of 54.

TWO OF THE VETERANS who will be in action for Louisiana Tech Saturday night in Ruston against Arkansas State are Billy Jack Talton, left, senior guard, and Wayne Parker, senior fullback. Parker is not only a good runner, but also does a good job of handling the bulk of the punting for the Bulldogs. Both players are from Minden.

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds' drive toward a National League pennant stalled on the "magic number" of four Friday night as they took a 6-0 beating from San Francisco while Los Angeles was beating St. Louis 6-3.

It still takes any combination of four Cincinnati victories and Dodger defeats to bring Cincinnati its first pennant since 1940.

Billy O'Dell throttled the Reds with eight scattered hits in pitch- ing the Giants to victory.

The Giants, who recently defeated the second-place Los Angeles Dodgers, three times in a row, played the role of spoiler to perfection as Jose Pagan, a 231-footer, drove in three runs and Chuck Hiller, with a 229 average, batted in two more.

O'Dell, building his record to 6-5, gave up one hit in every inning but the sixth. But he was tough with men on base. The last out was pinned on Bob Purkey, now 16-12.

A trio of Reds' pitchers struck out nine Giants.

As frequently is the case when Purkey has an off game, it was easy to tell early it wasn't his night.

He walked Orlando Cepeda to lead off the second and, after getting one man out, yielded a double to Jim Davenport and Pagan's two-run single. Wade Blanton started in on Davenport's blow and, misjudging it slightly, had to go back so far he couldn't quite make the catch.

Purkey again got himself into trouble by walking Matty You as first up in the third. Again he got one out but a single by Willie Mays drove in another run.

The Giants led it up in the sixth off Ken Johnson on a single by Ed Bailey, a walk, a run-scoring double by Pagan and Hiller's double which scored two more runs.

The Reds had at least one man on base in every inning but never caused O'Dell any serious trouble. Wally Post and Dick Gernert had singles in the fourth but two were out when Gernert got his hit and Jerry Zimmerman grounded out to end the mid threat.

REBELS 30, TIGERS 6

West Monroe's 2nd Period
Scoring Spree Routs J-H

JONESBORO, La. (Special) — Recovering from a first quarter jolt that saw their hosts out in front for a while, heavily favored West Monroe unlimbered for four touchdowns in the second quarter and rambled on to a 30-6 football victory over the Jonesboro-Hodge Tigers last night.

The invading triple-A Rebels were stunned by an early J-H offensive that sent Ladell Farley over for the Jonesboro touch- down on a pass from Benny Phillips. The Phillips to Farley pass climaxed a 49-yard drive, but it was all for the Bengals as West Monroe then began to move.

Charlie Van Zile evened the score on a 33-yard sprint with a handoff from quarterback Fred Newton. It opened the door for a 26-point quarter that gave the Rebels a 26-6 lead at the half.

It was the first of two touchdowns by Van Zile who went five yards around left end for his second in the same period.

In between Van Zile's scores came fullback Bobby Brice who took the ball over from the three gle touchdowns in each of the last two quarters.

Reggie Pleasant took a 21-yard pass from Newton for the third period TD, and then substitute halfback Robert Dowdy delivered the night's longest run when he got loose from scrimmage at his own five and galloped 85 yards down the left side to paydirt.

David Jones added two extra points for West Monroe, and Larry White contributed one.

It was the third straight J-H loss to a triple-A club, having lost earlier to Bastrop and Ouachita. Jonesboro-Hodge campaigns in double-A.

West Monroe looked mighty impressive with good size and plenty of speed. Van Zile, Woodcock, J. U. Liner, and Dowdy were impressive.

Jim Jones, James Gibson, and Jim Gregory were outstanding for J-H.

The Bulldogs dominated the game from the start with the running of Minster Williams outstanding for the Monroe team.

Carroll made constant gains around the ends and with passing up the middle.

Panthers Lose To
Oak Grove, 20-6

STERLINGTON (Special) — Oak Grove won their first game of the season over the still winless Sterlington Panthers last night by the score of 20-6.

Quarterback Mitchell Butler opened the scoring in the first quarter when he rolled out a 40-yard line around end for a touchdown. Halfback George Murphy ran the point after.

On the kickoff after the score, Oak Grove recovered their on-sides kick on Sterlington's 47 yard line and four plays later Joe Phillips scored on a 20-yard pass play from Butler. The extra point attempt failed, leaving the score at 13-0.

On the drive Oak Grove was penalized all the way back to their own five yard stripe. One of the penalties nullified a 90-yard touchdown run by David Kennedy.

The Panthers dominated the third quarter as they controlled the ball and scored their only touchdown of the night.

Oak Grove attempted another on-sides kick-off after their second TD, but Sterlington got the ball on Oak Grove's 48 yard line, and drove on the ground to pay dirt.

Quarterback Larry Senn did the honors by rolling around right end for the alley. The extra point attempt failed, leaving the score 13-6 in favor of Oak Grove.

Fullback Zane Tubbs powered up the middle for two yards and Oak Grove's final TD and Kennedy again added the point after.

Kennedy was Oak Grove's big gainer as he averaged 8 yards per carry.

Larry Jenkins and Billy Wise-carver carried most of the load for the Panthers.

AT BEAUMONT TONIGHT

Indians Go After Victory Number 2

MONROE — Northeast's Indians try to pluck a Cardinal feather Saturday night in Beaumont, Texas, when they meet Lamar Tech in their first road contest of the campaign.

Lamar's Cardinals, featuring a yard-eating ground attack, will be opening their 1961 season while Northeast will be hunting victory No. 2 after blanking Mexico Polytechnic, 28-0, last Saturday night.

Beaumont's Greene Stadium will be the site of the 8 p.m. game.

The game shapes up as one of the campaign's toughest tests for Northeast. Lamar Tech tied for second place in the Lone Star Conference in 1960, winning eight and losing four over the season and compiling a 5-2 league record. Coach Jim Higgins' Cards whipped Mexico Polytechnic 42-6, Northwestern 21-13, and South Dakota 41-21, among others last fall.

Lamar lost five starters from its 1960 club and suffers from a lack of experience behind its starting lineups. But the regular forward wall is considered a good one. It's led by 260-pound junior guard Lindey King, named to the All-America college first team last fall.

Ronne Fawcett heads Lamar's fine backfield. An All-Lone Star Conference halfback last year, Fawcett gained 457 yards rushing and added 37 yards on passes in 1960.

Northeast will start a large 214-3/4 average and experienced line with Dewey "Bo" Dick Smith (185) and Jim Love (200) on the flanks, Ross Nolan (235) and Jim LaCoste (225) at the tackles, Billy Foster (230) and Larry Hamblin (210) at the guards and Bob Tatum (215) at center.

Coach Jack Rowan is expected to lead off with Mandy Brechee (180) at quarterback, Don Blackwelder (180) and Al Ott (180) at the halfbacks and Willie Ragan (185) at fullback.

Both the Indians and Lamar will use a two-team system. Northeast's alternate team, the Maroons, will have Tommy Latham (185) and Wendell Drost (195) at ends, Richard Branch (240) and Bill Burns (225) at tackles, O. J. Louviere (205) and Terry Bruent (210) at guards, and Tommy Beaubie (210) at center.

flanks, Ross Nolan (235) and Jim LaCoste (225) at the tackles, Billy Foster (230) and Larry Hamblin (210) at the guards and Bob Tatum (215) at center.

COLLEGE GRID ACTION

Ole Miss Picked Over Razorbacks

By JOHN GRIFFIN
United Press International

Mighty Mississippi, a 6-point favorite over Arkansas in a nationally televised contest, leads the winners of last season's four biggest bowl games in action Saturday when the 1961 college football season moves into high gear.

Mississippi, the reigning Sugar Bowl champion, is favored over Arkansas, last year's Southwest Conference champion, even though 1960 All-America Jake Gibbs has graduated.

Doug Elmore is expected to fill Gibbs' quarterback shoes for the Rebels, who will be trying to improve on a 10-7 victory margin over the Razorbacks last year. But Arkansas also is improved and is ready to display Lance Alworth, a hard-running, high-touted halfback. The game will be televised by ABC at 4:30 p.m. EDT from a new stadium in Jackson, Miss.

Washington, last year's Rose Bowl champion, is only even money against invading Purdue. Orange Bowl winner Missouri is a heavy 14-point choice over Washington State, and Cotton Bowl champion Duke is a 7-point choice over South Carolina at night.

Purdue will be out to reverse the surprising defeat of the Big Ten's Minnesota at the hands of Washington in the Rose Bowl. Purdue had only a 4-4-1 record, but Washington, minus quarterback star Bob Schloredt from last year's team, is not supposed to be as strong.

Penn State, Alabama, Kansas, and Syracuse are favored in other games featuring teams which have been highly rated in the advance dope for this season.

Penn State, the pre-season pick as the East's top team, starts out as a 14-point favorite over Navy, which is rebuilding after the loss of Joe Bellino through graduation. The spotlight is on Roger Kochman, the Nittany Lion's speedy try to come back after leg injuries.

Alabama, which is shooting for its third straight bowl trip, is a 7-point pick to open with a win over rebuilding Georgia. Kansas, touted as the Big Eight Conference favorite, is favored by only 7 over a Texas Christian team that may be extra tough. Syracuse built around All-American halfback Ernie Davis, is a 6-point favorite over Oregon State.

As usual in the opening weeks of the season, intersection games dominate the schedule. In other leading games in this category, Indiana is a 12-point favorite over Kansas State; Texas 12 over California; Iowa State 14-1 over Oklahoma State; Maryland is a 2-point pick as a Cotton Bowl visitor against SMU at night; Baylor is favored by 15 over Wake Forest at night; Tulane is 5 over Stanford; and UCLA 13 over the Air Force.

Army is a heavy favorite over Richmond, but will have to stop the passing of Mel Rieckert, who torpedeered West Virginia last week. Roman Gabriel, who is being hailed in advance as perhaps the best passer in the nation, leads a heavily favored North Carolina State team against once-beaten Wyoming.

Probable starting lineup for the Cats follows: ends, Charles Darnell, 200, Ward Alexander, 200, tackles, Joe Doshier, 230, Larry Restucher, 235, guards, Ross Hanum, 215, Lamar Scott, 205, center, Cleve Roberts, 190, quarterback, John Mallett, 175, halfbacks, Charles Underwood, 200, Billy W. NORTHEAST STATE President George T. Walker (right) wishes Coach Jack Rowan (left) and his football team good luck as the Indian griders leave for Beaumont, Texas, and Saturday night's game with Lamar Tech. Cheerleaders, band and students gave the Northeast squad a send-off when it left for Beaumont Friday at noon.

AT BEAUMONT TONIGHT

Indians Go After Victory Number 2

MONROE — Northeast's Indians try to pluck a Cardinal feather Saturday night in Beaumont, Texas, when they meet Lamar Tech in their first road contest of the campaign.

Lamar's Cardinals, featuring a yard-eating ground attack, will be opening their 1961 season while Northeast will be hunting victory No. 2 after blanking Mexico Polytechnic, 28-0, last Saturday night.

Beaumont's Greenie Stadium will be the site of the 8 p.m. game.

The game shapes up as one of the campaign's toughest tests for Northeast. Lamar Tech tied for second place in the Lone Star Conference in 1960, winning eight and losing four over the season and compiling a 5-2 league record. Coach Jim Higgins' Cards whipped Mexico Polytechnic (42-6), Northwestern (21-13), and South Dakota (41-21), among others, last fall.

Lamar lost five starters from its 1960 club and suffers from a lack of experience behind its starting linemen. But the regular forward wall is considered a good one. It's led by 207-pound junior guard Lindley King, named to the all-Texas College first team last fall.

Ronnie Fontenot heads Lamar's fine backfield. An all-Lone Star Conference halfback last year, Fontenot gained 457 yards rushing and added 37 yards on passes in 1960.

Northeast will start a large (214-lb. average) and experienced line with Dewey "Bo Dick" Smith (185) and Jim Love (200) on the flanks, Ross Nolan (235) and Jim LaCoste (225) at the tackles, Billy Foster (230) and Larry Rambin (210) at the guards and Bob Tatum (215) at center.

Coach Jack Rowan is expected to lead off with Mundy Breazeale (180) at quarterback, Don Black-welder (180) and Al Ott (180) at the halfbacks and Willie Ragan (181) at fullback.

Both the Indians and Lamar will use a two-team system. Northeast's alternate team, the Maroons, will have Tommy Latham (185) and Wendell Drost (195) at ends, Richard Branch (240) and Bill Burns (225) at tackles, O. J. Louviere (200) and Terry Brunt (210) at guards, and Tommy Beabe (210) at center.

The Maroon backfield is expected to be Don Wattigny (180) at quarterback, Ken Newton (175) and Ken Thornhill (185) at the

Snead, Nicklaus Prep For Pro-Am

Losantiville CC

CINCINNATI (AP) — Veteran pro Sam Snead and amateur champion Jack Nicklaus warmed up Friday for the second annual pro-amateur tournament at the Losantiville Country Club.

The two-day event, starting Saturday, will be a 36-hole best ball affair for pro-amateur teams.

Snead came in from his West Virginia home with amateur partner Ed Tutwiler of Charleston.

Nicklaus, who won the U.S. Amateur championship for the second time last weekend at age 21, signed up his Ohio State coach and golf pro, Bob Kepler, as his teammate again.

Kepler and Nicklaus fired a 66-68-134, or 10 under par, to win the Losantiville event last year.

The pro on the top two-man team this year is to collect $2,000 while his amateur partner picks up $200 in merchandise.

halves and Devone Payne (185) at full. In the win over Mexico, the Maroons outscored the starters, two touchdowns to one, while the Tribe third team counted one TD.

After meeting the Cards, Northeast will be back at home next week to host rugged East Texas State in Brown Stadium. The Indians then go on the road again for an Oct. 7 clash with Northwestern at Natchitoches.

Oakland Told Raiders Might Go To Memphis

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — The Oakland Raiders, playing their second American Football League season without a home stadium, may be shifted to Memphis, Tenn., in 1962 unless attendance for home games picks up.

Wayne Valley, one of three owners' club Thursday, told a boosters' club Thursday he was "laying my cards on the table" in advance of the first home game of the regular season Sunday against the Dallas Texans at San Francisco's Candlestick Park.

In their only previous home appearance on Labor Day, slightly more than 4,000 fans paid their way into 60,000-seat Kezar Stadium in San Francisco to watch the Raiders beat the Denver Broncos.

Last season the club finished an estimated $500,000 in the red. It won six; lost eight.

After the Raiders were shut out this season in the first two games, played away from home, the three owners fired Coach Eddie Erdelatz and replaced him with his assistant, Marty Feldman.

Floyd Stopped

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — Dennis Adjei, a bantamweight boxer from Ghana, stopped David Floyd of Australia in the 10th round of a 12-round bout Friday night. Adjei weighed 127 1/2 pounds. Floyd 128 1/2.

COLLEGE GRID ACTION

Ole Miss Picked Over Razorbacks

By JOHN GRIFFIN
United Press International

Mighty Mississippi, a 6-point favorite over Arkansas in a nationally televised contest, leads the winners of last season's four biggest bowl games in action Saturday when the 1961 college football season moves into high gear.

Mississippi, the reigning Sugar Bowl champion, is favored over Arkansas, last year's Southwest Conference champion, even though 1960 All-America Jake Gibbs has graduated.

Doug Elmore is expected to fill Gibbs' quarterback shoes for the Rebels, who will be trying to improve on a 10-7 victory margin over the Razorbacks last year. But Arkansas also is improved and is ready to display Lance Alworth, a hard-running, high-touted halfback. The game will be televised by ABC at 4:30 p.m. EDT, from a new Stadium in Jackson, Miss.

Washington, last year's Rose Bowl champion, is only even money against invading Purdue. Orange Bowl winner Missouri is a heavy 14-point choice over Washington State, and Cotton Bowl champion Duke is a 7-point choice over South Carolina at night.

Purdue will be out to revenge the surprising defeat of the Big Ten's Minnesota at the hands of Washington in the Rose Bowl. Purdue had only a 4-4 record, but Washington, minus quarterback star Bob Schloredt from last year's team, is not supposed to be as strong.

Penn State, Alabama, Kansas, and Syracuse are favored in other games featuring teams which have been highly rated in the advance

Penn State, the pre-season pick as the East's top team, starts out as a 14-point favorite over Navy, which is rebuilding after the loss of Joe Bellino through graduation. The spotlight is on Roger Kochman, the Nittany Lions' speedster trying to come back after leg injuries.

Alabama, which is shooting for its third straight bowl trip, is a 7-point pick to open with a win over rebuilding Georgia. Kansas, touted as the Big Eight Conference favorite, is favored by only 7 over a Texas Christian team that may be extra tough. Syracuse built around All-American halfback Ernie Davis, is a 6-point favorite over Oregon State.

Northeast State Ranks With Top Offensive Teams

Northeast State ranks as one of the top offensive teams in the country after one game, according to statistics released by the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics this week.

Jack Rowan's Northeast club is ranked fifth among NAIA schools in team rushing offense with 366 yards, 316 rushing and 50 passing.

Willie Ragan, Northeast sophomore fullback from Monroe is ranked 24th in NAIA individual rushing with 96 yards on 10 carries.

Northeast ran up its yards in a 28-0 victory over Mexico Polytechnic last Saturday.

U of G Coach Out With Appendicitis

ATHENS, Ga. (AP) — University of Georgia football coach Johnny Griffith was hospitalized late Friday with an attack of appendicitis. Hospital officials indicated surgery would be necessary.

Griffith, appointed head coach early this year, was to have led his team against the University of Alabama in the opening game of the Southeastern Conference season Saturday.

Mrs. Ruth Glad Maris Did Not Tie Babe's Mark

NEW YORK (AP) — Babe Ruth's widow said Friday she was happy Roger Maris didn't tie the Bambino's record of 60 home runs in 154 games.

"That was one record I didn't want broken," said Mrs. Claire Ruth. "I have the highest regard for Roger Maris. He's a fine hitter. But I must admit I'm glad he didn't equal the Babe's 60."

Mrs. Ruth watched the Wednesday night game—the Yankees' 154th of the season—on television in a friend's home.

"It was a nerve-racking night," she said. "After Maris hit his 59th I didn't know what was going to happen. Most home run hitters go on streaks and I figured that Roger might get hot."

"Frankly, I didn't expect him to break the record on that last day but I wouldn't have been too much surprised if he tied it."

She explained why she was anxious that the Babe's 1927 record be preserved.

"If the record had been broken the next year after Babe made it, or even two or three years later, it wouldn't be so bad," she said. "But now that it has withstood challenges for 34 years, it would hurt to see it go."

Then she added: "The Babe loved that record. He wanted to be known as the king of home runs forever."

PORTLAND COURSE RECORD

Barber Shoots 64 To Tie For Lead

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Jerry Barber set an 18-hole course record of 64 Friday and moved into a three-way tie for the lead at the halfway point of the Portland Open Golf Tournament.

Barber, Dave Hill and Jerry Steelsmith all have 36-hole totals of 134.

The 45-year-old Barber, who trailed Steelsmith by four strokes and Hill by three going into Friday's round, put together matching rounds of 32-4 under par on each nine.

He had a 70 Thursday on the 6,675-y. Columbia-Edgewater Golf Club course. Barber opened with a 25-foot eagle putt and followed with birdie putts of 17, 10 and 8 feet on three of the next four holes.

The 5-foot, 5 1/2 inch, 137-pound PGA champion went over par on each nine.

"I wasn't hitting my tee shots too well," Barber said, tongue-in-cheek.

Hill, the slender 24-year-old Denver Open champ, got off to a poor start, but recovered nicely to add a 35-33-68 to his opening round 66.

"I got enough birdies to sink a battleship," he said, "and enough bogies, too."

Hill scored birdies on eight holes, but was over par on four others.

Playing in a threesome with Barber and Billy Maxwell, Hill left his first tee shot in a sand trap, and followed with a recovery shot that traveled less distance than some of the sand.

He got too far under the ball, and it went high into the air, landing about 10 feet away in some deep grass. He took a six on the par-5 hole.

Steelsmith, after a record-tying 65 opening round, slipped to a 69 with rounds of 34 and 35. "I don't think I'll ever hit the ball as well as I did yesterday," he said.

Tommy Aaron, Gainesville, Ga., who was tied for second with Hill after the first round, took a 70 and left two strokes behind the leaders.

The 121-man field will be cut to 70 pros and 10 amateurs for Saturday's round, with the same amateurs and 60 pros continuing in the Sunday wrapup.

Polish Athlete

In Record Lift

VIENNA (AP) — Poland's Waldemar Basanowski captured the world lightweight weightlifting title Friday night when he lifted a total of 885 1/2 pounds.

Russia's Sergei Lopatin, the favorite and world record holder, was second and Poland's Marian Zielski third.

The United States did not have an entry in the division.

Orioles Beat White Sox On Gentile's HR

CHICAGO (AP) — Chuck Estrada and Jim Gentile once again were an invincible combination Friday night as the Orioles defeated the White Sox 8-6 in a rain-interrupted contest.

Gentile walloped his fifth grand slam homer of the season to tie the major league record set by Ernie Banks of the Cubs in 1955. It came off Don Larsen and climaxed a seven-run outburst in the fifth inning.

Every one of Gentile's grand slams, beginning with the pair against Minnesota May 19, have come with Estrada on the mound for the Orioles. And in each instance Estrada was the winning pitcher.

Estrada won his 14th Friday but he wasn't around at the finish. Though he yielded only seven hits, wildness got him into a jam in the ninth after two Sox were out.

Camilo Carreon singled and the next two walked to fill the bases. Estrada was removed for Milt Pappas. Floyd Robinson then smashed the first grand slam of his career and his 11th homer of the season. Pappas fanned Jim Landis for the final out.

BOSTON (AP) — Jackie Donnelly, of Buffalo, N.Y., angling for a shot at lightweight champion Joe Brown, seeks his 26th victory Saturday night in a nationally televised (ABC) bout with veteran Paoli Rosi.

Promoter Sam Silverman has offered Brown $50,000 to defend his crown against the winner of the 10-round fight in Boston later this year.

Donnelly, 22, who has won 25, lost once and drew once, is ninth ranked nationally.

He took a split decision over the Italian-born Rosi, who now fights out of New York, July 8.

THINNING ODORLESS PAINT

Don't make the error of thinning odorless paint with ordinary solvents such as turpentine. This only replaces the odor the manufacturer has gone to the trouble of removing. Instead, use the special odorless thinners available for such paints.

IN HOME EXPANSION

Don't Forget Plan For Heat

If you have decided to expand the living space of your home, don't forget to make plans for heating.

To choose the right type of heating equipment, ask yourself these questions about costs, comfort and value:

1. How much will the heating equipment cost? How much to install? How much to operate? Will there be any hidden extra costs?
2. How much comfort will the heating equipment provide?
3. Will the heating equipment increase the value of the house? Should the heating become a permanent-type addition to the house like the new room itself?

FOUR METHODS

There are four possible methods you can use to heat the new room, each varying in cost, comfort and value.

First, there is the appliance-like space heater which is simply set on the floor of the new room. It uses either gas, oil, kerosene or electricity.

The space heater is frequently the least expensive to purchase and install, but it is not always the most economical to operate.

SYSTEM EXPANSION

Another way to heat the new room is to expand your existing central heating system. This can tell you whether your heating should be done with the advice of plant is large enough to take on a reliable heating contractor, who can extra heating load.

Charmingdale Has Entry In Homes Parade

Charmingdale Homes' feature in the Parade of Homes is located on Lot 99, Montrose, in Charmingdale Subdivision.

It is a three-bedroom brick house, with two ceramic tile baths, double carport, patio, attic fan, central heating, and built-in range and oven. The subdivision, which is located on Highway 165 south, a short drive from downtown Monroe, has concrete streets and sidewalks.

Other features of the subdivision are the Charmingdale Country Club golf course and swimming pool.

The builders point out these other features of the subdivision:

Peace and quiet of country living, with all city conveniences such as public sewerage, public water, and engineered drainage.

There will be personnel on the premises to explain details of the home.

JIM BRADFORD of Bradford-Built Homes, 2001 Royal Ave., Monroe, has been in the construction business for 14 years, with three years of this devoted to homebuilding. He was born in Monroe, reared at Archibald, attended Mangham High School, and Northeast State. He is married, has two children, is a member of Covenant Presbyterian Church, and Monroe Chamber of Commerce. He resides on Kathy Lane, Monroe.

THINNING ODORLESS PAINT

Don't make the error of thinning odorless paint with ordinary solvents such as turpentine. This only replaces the odor the manufacturer has gone to the trouble of removing. Instead, use the special odorless thinners available for such paints.

IN HOME EXPANSION

Don't Forget Plan For Heat

If you have decided to expand the living space of your home, don't forget to make plans for heating.

To chose the right type of heating equipment, ask yourself these questions about costs, comfort and value:

1. How much will the heating equipment cost? How much to install? How much to operate? Will there be any hidden extra costs?
2. How much comfort will the heating equipment provide?
3. Will the heating equipment increase the value of the house? Should the heating become a permanent-type addition to the house like the new room itself?

FOUR METHODS

There are four possible methods you can use to heat the new room, each varying in cost, comfort and value.

First, there is the appliance-like space heater which is simply set on the floor of the new room. It uses either gas, oil, kerosene or electricity.

The space heater is frequently the least expensive to purchase and install, but it is not always the most economical to operate.

SYSTEM EXPANSION

Another way to heat the new room is to expand your existing central heating system. This can tell you whether your heating should be done with the advice of plant is large enough to take on a reliable heating contractor, who an extra heating load.

Paste Wax Coat For Metal Tools

Apply a thin coat of paste wax to metal parts and handles of hand tools used outdoors to prevent rusting and keep tools free of dirt.

Soviets Set Off 15th Test Blast

WASHINGTON (AP) — Another Soviet atomic blast was fired Friday, the 15th since the Soviet Union resumed nuclear tests Sept. 1. An announcement from the Atomic Energy Commission said: "The Soviet Union conducted a nuclear detonation in the atmosphere early today."

"The detonation occurred in the vicinity of Novaya Zemlya and had a yield on the order of a megaton."

Novaya Zemlya is the Soviet Arctic testing site.

A megaton is the equivalent of a million tons of TNT.

SAW HORSE

You can improvise an extra "saw horse" by opening a ladder about two-thirds the way while it is laying on its side.

Storage Hex Often Solved By Built-Ins

Big home or little home, large household or small, there is hardly a family that can say it has adequate storage space. The lack may be general — from attic to the basement — or it may be confined mainly to certain rooms, such as kitchen, bathroom, or family room.

Lumber and lumber paneling are ideal for creating built-ins to correct the lack of storage facilities, for lumber will fit into any decorative scheme and it is economical and easy to work with. This is especially true of softwoods and some of the most readily available are the species that grow in the western pine region.

Built-ins naturally should be appropriate to the room. This sounds elementary, but it takes some planning and forethought to work out the sort of built-ins that will do the best job in a specific situation.

For example, storage space in a kitchen should be co-ordinated with work areas. Drawers and cabinets should be planned to hold heavy equipment below counters and cupboards to contain lighter items should go above. Consideration should be given, too, to space for mixers, toasters, blenders and other small appliances that a housewife may not wish to keep out all the time.

In a bathroom — even in a small one — there usually is space to box in the area under the basin. This will provide room for towels, extra soap and bathroom tissue, and perhaps also for bulkier things such as hot water bottles. If the bathroom is fairly good sized, then cabinets may be built on the wall to hold these supplies, medicines and other necessities.

A family room, of course can provide storage space for myriad belongings. These may include movie and slide projection equipment, card tables and game supplies, hobby materials, and radio-phonograph equipment. Space also might be set aside in this room to display a collection of old china and glass, athletic trophies, or perhaps, prized examples of photography.

The storage wall is another concept that works in many rooms and will provide a great deal of varied storage space.

Trouble Free Materials Are First Requisite

"Trouble free" is the number one requirement for all materials used in the family fun room.

A popular choice for flooring is resilient rubber or solid vinyl. Since the colors go all the way through in these high quality floorings, they withstand wear and tear of dancing feet, spilled glue from the hobby activities, dents from small fry pull toys, spilled drinks and other hazards common to a heavy traffic room devoted to family recreation.

COMPONENTS

Both rubber and solid vinyl flooring may be considered as structural components which last for the life of the building.

It is easy for the do-it-yourself enthusiasts to install either rubber or solid vinyl in interesting designs. By creating special areas of activity through the resilient tile design, the home owners can achieve not only a feeling of greater spaciousness in the recreation room but also localize activities of different members of the family, for example.

Creating a shuffleboard or checkerboard pattern as part of the design of the family room floor is another way to increase the play value of the rubber or solid vinyl flooring.

New Electric Uses Call For More Wiring

Very often, homeowners continue using the same wiring system that they've been using for the past ten years, in spite of having added many new electrical appliances to their homes.

There's no doubt that electricity, through appliances and electrical utilization, has added much more comfort and convenience to our lives. But a home's wiring system must grow along with time are among the more glamorous convenience outlets available.

For one thing, the more appliances and uses for electricity, the more outlets will be needed. To have plenty of outlets is fine. But remember, there must be enough circuits to supply all those outlets with sufficient current to operate several appliances at one time.

It all starts with the power supplies to your distribution center through the "Electrical Service Entrance."

Adequate wiring or full house-power begins with the availability of at least 100 amperes of electrical current at either 120 or 240 volts.

Youth Dies At Ruston After Wreck

RUSTON (Special) — Cannon Leon Mitchell, 15, of 414 E. Mississippi St., Ruston, died Friday morning of injuries received when he darted into a street and was struck by a passing auto Thursday night.

The youth died at Ruston Hospital of multiple injuries, including a severe head injury, internal injuries and hip and foot injuries.

Driver of the auto which struck the youth was identified as Bobby H. Roberts, 25, of Farmville Rd., Ruston.

Witnesses said the youth darted from between two parked cars in the 700 block of East Georgia directly into the path of the on-coming auto.

Roberts said he did not see the child until he was directly in front of him. He was unable to stop in time and struck the boy, throwing him up on the hood of the car.

The car traveled 30 yards after impact, and the boy was thrown to the pavement when the car came to a stop.

City police and two witnesses, Prentice Hall Wade Jr., 18, of Rt. 2, Ruston, and Ronnie Holloway, 18, of Rt. 1, Ruston, said the accident appeared to be unavoidable.

It was the sixth traffic fatality for Lincoln Parish this year. Damage to Roberts car was estimated at $100.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Mitchell, Ruston; a sister, Mrs. Beattie Gullatt, Ruston; two brothers, Lonnie, Ruston, and Loy, U. S. Air Force; maternal grandfather, Tom Kinsley, Ruston.

Return Bill On Man Accused Of Striking Girl

RUSTON (Special) — One of seven true bills returned by the Lincoln Parish Grand Jury indicted Ben Peritt, operator of a Courthouse concession stand, on a simple battery charge.

The indictment grew out of an incident in which Peritt was accused of striking Gloria Jean Duncan, a student at Grambling (Negro) College.

The student claimed she was struck with a billy stick because she was standing too close to a white water fountain. Peritt countered that he struck her only after she had cursed him.

Other true bills include: Jesse Lee Sherman, battery with a dangerous weapon on Bessie Sherman; Carl Jones, forgery of check; Richard Reynolds, check forgery; George R. Baker, battery on Oleo Jenkins; Buck Morgan, disturbing the peace by appearing in an intoxicated condition in public; and David Brown, theft of $89.56 in cash.

Youth Dies
At Ruston
After Wreck

RUSTON (Special) — Cannon Leon Mitchell, 15, of 414 E. Mississippi St., Ruston, died Friday morning of injuries received when he darted into a street and was struck by a passing auto Thursday night.

The youth died at Ruston Hospital of multiple injuries, including a severe head injury, internal injuries and hip and foot injuries.

Driver of the auto which struck the youth was identified as Bobby H. Roberts, 25, of Farmerville Rd., Ruston.

Witnesses said the youth darted from between two parked cars in the 700 block of East Georgia directly into the path of the on-coming auto.

Roberts said he did not see the child until he was directly in front of him. He was unable to stop in time and struck the boy, throwing him up on the hood of the car.

The car traveled 30 yards after impact, and the boy was thrown to the pavement when the car came to a stop.

City police and two witnesses, Prentice Hall Wade Jr., 18, of Rt. 2, Ruston, and Ronnie Holloway, 18, of Rt. 1, Ruston, said the accident appeared to be unavoidable.

It was the sixth traffic fatality for Lincoln Parish this year. Damage to Roberts car was estimated at $100.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Mitchell, Ruston; a sister, Mrs. Beattie Gullatt, Ruston; two brothers, Lonnie, Ruston, and Loy, U. S. Air Force; maternal grandfather, Tom Kinsley, Ruston.

Return Bill On Man Accused Of Striking Girl

RUSTON (Special) — One of seven true bills returned by the Lincoln Parish Grand Jury indicted Ben Peritt, operator of a Courthouse concession stand, on a simple battery charge.

The indictment grew out of an incident in which Peritt was accused of striking Gloria Jean Duncan, a student at Grambling (Negro) College.

The student claimed she was struck with a billy stick because she was standing too close to a white water fountain. Peritt countered that he struck her only after she had cursed him.

Other true bills include:

Jesse Lee Sherman, battery with a dangerous weapon on Bessie Sherman; Carl Jones, forgery of check; Richard Reynolds, check forgery; George R. Baker, battery on Olee Jenkins; Buck Morgan, disturbing the peace by appearing in an intoxicated condition in public, and David Brown, theft of $89.56 in cash.

U.S. Appeal Filed In Bid To Bar Trial

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—breach of the peace charge pending action by the appellate court. The Justice Department made its bid today in its effort to block trial of a Tennessee Negro charged with the slaying of a white woman.

The Justice Department appeal challenges the refusal of U. S. District Judge Harold Cox to stop the trial of a Negro charged with the slaying of a white woman. The trial is scheduled for Sept. 25 in the federal court here.

A fight erupted between Hardy and Circuit Clerk John Wood Sept. 7 when Hardy went to Wood's office to help a Negro couple register. Wood said he hit Hardy after ordering the Negro to leave his office.

The Justice Department termed Hardy's arrest "solely an attempt to intimidate and coerce the Negroes of Walthall County to prevent them from registering to vote. No Negroes has attempted to register since Sept. 7."

U.S. Appeal Filed In Bid To Bar Trial

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—The Justice Department made headway Friday in its effort to block trial of a Tennessee Negro arrested after a fist - swinging fracas at a voter registration office at Tylertown, Miss.

Moving swiftly on the eve of the scheduled trial of John W. Hardy, 21, of Nashville, a federal attorney flew here Thursday night and filed an appeal with the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

Judge Richard T. Rives, the appellate court's presiding jurist, accepted the appeal at his home and scheduled arguments on it here for 9 a.m. Oct. 3.

An assistant Mississippi attorney general, who accompanied the federal lawyer here, agreed to postpone Hardy's trial on a breach of the peace charge pending action by the appellate court.

The Justice Department appeal challenges the refusal of U. S. Dist. Judge Harold Cox to stop the hearing, which was to have been held at Tylertown before Justice of the Peace Percy Johnson.

Joh Doar of the Justice Department's civil rights section appealed Cox's decision of Thursday and renewed his petition for a court order to block the Negro's trial.

In urging Cox to halt the proceedings, the government claimed that Hardy's arrest violated the 1957 Civil Rights Act and that the country would suffer irreparable injury if the Negro were prosecuted.

But Cox labeled the federal move a "self-made emergency" and said "it is difficult...to conceive how the United States can possibly be irreparably damaged by this criminal case down in Walthall County, Miss."

A fight erupted between Hardy and Circuit Clerk John Wood Sept. 7 when Hardy went to Wood's office to help a Negro couple register. Wood said he hit Hardy after ordering the Negro to leave his office.

The Justice Department termed Hardy's arrest "solely an attempt to intimidate and coerce the Negroes of Walthall County to prevent them from registering to vote. No Negroes has attempted to register since Sept. 7."

Women Picket School In N. O.

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The presidents of three anti-integration groups picketed on the sidewalks of desegregated Andrew H. Wilson elementary school here Friday.

Eight policemen supervised the picketing, done two at a time on police orders. Earlier, picketing had been prohibited at the school. The three women said: "We wanted to show that as presidents we were serving our members." They carried signs saying "God help us keep calm, cool and segregated. Jesus and Moses upheld the law of segregation. God curses all integrators. Abraham and St. Paul advocated segregation. The law of God supersedes the law of the land."
